PEOPLE'S NOMINATIONS IN THE FOURTH WARD.—The Democratic Convention made an entirely new ticket for Aldermen—rejecting the only Democratic Alderman elected from the Ward last year—and repudiated the the principle of the new City Charter that one Alderderman should act for two consecutive years. The People's Convention nominated Messrs. Johnston and Fishback, aldermen for one year, and Mr. West, President of the present Board, alderman, for 2 years. It is very important for the interests of this Ward, the coming year, when the city debt is to be funded, and the new Charter is to be put in operation, that at least one man should be in the new Board, who has been a member of the old Board, and who is familiar with the affairs of the Ward. We think the Convention acted wisely and for the best interests of the Ward in nominating Mr. West. Mr. Johnston we know as a man of good common sense, and a practical business man, who attends well to his own affairs, and would take good care of the public interests. With Mr. Fishback we are not acquainted, but he was strongly recommended by those in the Convention who knew him.

Of the remaining persons on the ticket we need not speak. They are well known in the Ward, and were heartily supported in the Convention. The people will say next Tuesday whether the ticket nominated last evening shall be elected. To their decision we shall cheerfully submit.

BARS DOWN.—It is generally understood that the Democratic pasture is open, and that every one can pasture his pony in the richest clover he can find. For instance, Messrs. Chandler, Kano and Force were last year bolters from the Democratic party, and opposed the Democratic ticket, and this year they are rewarded for bolting by being assigned to the chief seats in the synagogue. It is a happy state of things when every Democrat can do just as he pleases, and vote for those he thinks the best men, and not be censured for it, even though he votes against the regular nominations. Those who did so last year are the most honored now.

WINTER AGAIN.—A light fall of snow gives a wintry aspect to the weather once more. The sky looks dark and lowering, and there is a small prospect of sleighing, provided enough falls.

RELIANCE WORKS.—Messrs. Decker & Seville, Proprietors.—On Thursday last, we took a hasty look through this manufacturing establishment, on West Water street. There are 12 workmen in the molding room. They melt 2,600 pounds in one hour. The furnace has a cast-iron cupola of 8 feet; cupola and chimney 30 feet. A blacksmith's shop in the rear, with two fires blown by the engine. The engine is of 12 horse power, heated with wood. They have three emery wheels, and one grindstone of a ton's weight. In the machine shop are two lathes. They manufacture stoves of all kinds and stove furniture, fire fronts, wagon-boxes, sleigh-shoes, large kettles, mill-picks, corn-crackers to cut cob with corn, and small mills in cast-iron frames ready to be fastened down in the mill, and have the belt put on. The stove plate patterns are all of cast-iron. There is a shop for putting the stoves together. North of the iron works is the shop for making French Burr Mill Stones. The stones come from France, are hard and porous, average 15 inches long, 8 inches wide, and 8 inches thick. Some stones are harder than others. Those of similar temper or hardness are worked together. They are united by cement, and when completed are from a foot and a half to four feet and a half in diameter. The top or running stones range from one and a half to two feet in thickness, and the bed stones average about nine inches. They have the largest Mill Stone manufactory west of the city of New York.

Their Sales Room is at 127 East Water st., where the various articles manufactured can be procured. See Advertisement.

O. A. BROWNSON.—This individual who tried all known methods of saving his soul, without finding any benefit until he became a Jesuit, has lately delivered a lecture before the Young Men's Library Association at Cincinnati, against Kossuth and Intervention.—He said Austria and Russia were right, Hungary was wrong and Kossuth was a traitor.—This was received with storms of hisses. Denunciations from Jesuits and tyrants is pretty good evidence that Kossuth is a true friend of liberty and the people.

☞ We are informed that the person who brought in the ticket for the Democratic caucus, in the Fourth Ward, wished the names for Aldermen, printed separately, but our printers did not so understand it. There was no design we are satisfied, in the ordering or the printing of the tickets to prejudice Mr. West's nomination. Why he was not nominated, can be answered hereafter, if the inquiry is pushed.

JOHNY BOOKER.—This eccentric specimen of the genus homo, who has such an astonishing faculty of exciting the risibilities, together with the Little Bailey's, who "tip the light fantastic toe" like so many "fairies," gives another of their pleasant, and agreeable entertainments at Gardiner's Hall, to-night.

Doct. Woolsey, has proffered his services in several favorite ballads. This will, of course add much interest to the occasion.

CLOTHING AND TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT.—In these hard times, it is a great blessing to be able to provide one's self with cheap, and at the same time comfortable and elegant clothing. Mr. N. JEWETT keeps not only all kinds of ready-made clothing, for both the wholesale and retail trade, but also cloths of all kinds, which he makes up to order, in the best style and at the shortest notice. In the cutting and manufacturing department he employs the best talent, and any garment ordered which does not give perfect satisfaction, need not be taken. Persons from the country are especially invited to call, and examine his stock, and make trial of his skill, as he declines to yield the palm to any one in the tailoring department.

☞ The Wisconsin exultingly says that the Maine Law cannot be passed in New York, nor in Wisconsin.

An Example to be followed by those who are older.—The messengers of the Assembly of New York, about a dozen little boys under the age of twelve, have formed themselves into an association called the "Young Temperance Guard of the Assembly." They have signed a pledge to abstain from all intoxicating drinks.

Religious Revival.—We learn from the Green Bay Spectator, that nearly all the population of the mining country in the vicinity of Eagle River, on Lake Superior, have lately became converted, during a religious excitement in that region.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The citizens of Dodge and Jefferson counties, met recently at Watertown, organized an Agricultural Society, and made a selection of the following officers:

For President.—A. H. Atwater, of Dodge county.
For Secretary.—J. A. Headley, of Jefferson county.
For Treasurer.—L. A. Cole, of Jefferson county.
For Example Committee.—Wm. M. Dennis and Benj. Fuller, of Dodge county; Linus R. Cady and John Richards, of Jefferson county.

FIRE AT CHICAGO.—Four buildings were destroyed by fire at Chicago, on Wednesday night last.

☞ The People's City Convention, meets at the Common Council Room this Evening at 7 o'clock.

☞ A little daughter of James L. Little, of Boston, was poisoned to death on Wednesday, by taking a dose of indelible ink, administered by the nurse, in mistake for cough drops.

Two students have been expelled from Brown University, and Messrs. Norton, Porter and Greene, three of the ablest Professors have sent in their resignation, in consequence of a disagreement with Mr. Wayland the President.

"CAN IT BE POSSIBLE?"—With this wondering ejaculation, the Journal, of yesterday, headed a short article on the fact that Kossuth had not made a pilgrimage to the tomb of Washington. It says it cannot persuade itself that he will leave the country without doing it, however pressing his engagements, or however urgent the call for him to return to his own country; and that "he owes it to himself and the cause he advocates, to pay a tribute of respect to the World's Great Teacher, the MAN who, having founded an empire, resigned his authority into the hands of the people from whom he received it," &c.

We think the Journal's amazement entirely uncalled for, bordering on the ridiculous and the superstitious! Kossuth, by devoting himself night and day, in sickness and in health, with the whole strength of his body and mind, to establishing the liberties of his own country, and thus following the example of Washington, pays a far better tribute of respect to that great and good man, than he would by any formal pilgrimage to his tomb, to manifest a ceremonious sorrow over his senseless ashes. Nor can we admire that taste which represents Washington as the "founder of an empire." He never was the "founder of an empire," and it seems to us to be an unwise attempt at adulation to call him so.

The Journal, in this matter, has followed the lead of Senator Clemens, of Alabama. And we believe their sentiments are also united in favor of slave catching. The difference between them and Kossuth is this. They, like certain individuals of old, believe in "building the tombs of the prophets and garnishing the sepulchres of the righteous," while they enact laws to make slaves of the living! Kossuth, like another Individual of old, believes in devoting his energies to the good of the living, and in leaving "the dead," not "to bury their dead," but to repose quietly in their tombs.

THE COMPROMISE.—It is, therefore, gratifying that the recent compromise measures have proved to be as they were regarded by the eminent statesman who penned them, "a settlement—in principle and substance a final settlement—of the dangerous and exciting subjects which they embraced.—Journal.

This statement is perpetually repeated by those who wish to believe it, seemingly in the hope by such constant repetition to persuade themselves that it is true. They might as well assert that the triumph of the Austro-Russian armies in Hungary, and the Coup d'Etat of Napoleon the Little, were the "final settlement" of the question of human liberty in Europe! Even now the slave holders are making preparations to introduce slaves into California, and to divide the State, giving them one portion. They will probably claim the whole, and then these men who now boast so much about "a final settlement," will give them half, in order to make another "final settlement," and will consider that they performed a glorious act, in not surrendering the whole. And thus they will go on, if their policy is not checked, making constant concessions to the slave power, until it is "finally settled" that the principle of liberty has been entirely overthrown in this country. But we trust and hope that, by the unceasing efforts of the friends of freedom, altogether a different settlement, may yet be made.

HONESTY IS THE POLICY.—Day before yesterday a heavy silk house in this city, which has especially cultivated the Southern trade, and which was one of the supplest worshippers of the divinity of slave-catching and an eminent support of the famous Union Safety Committee, went by the board. The liabilities were large, and the failure is understood to be a bad one.

Nor is this house alone in this retributive calamity. Many of the prominent dry-goods establishments which went in for Southern patronage at the time when Castle Garden was in all its glory, and when the Union was to be saved by shouting for the Fugitive Slave Law, have fallen victims to their patriotism, and have smashed up by reason of too much of that custom for which they made sacrifices so considerable.

Meanwhile another large silk house, which was violently assailed and made the special object of proscription because its principles were not kept in market as well as its merchandise, has done a thriving and substantial business and is in the enjoyment of unimpeachable prosperity and credit.—N. Y. Tribune.

A Bank Non-Suited for Usury.—The Western Bank, at Springfield, sued John Mills for notes to the amount of $18,000, endorsed by him, for the members of a firm who are now insolvent. The payment was resisted on the ground of illegal proceedings in discounting the notes, and also on account of usury. The Supreme Court has sustained the objections. The bank, it is supposed, will lose about $18,000 of the $18,000, having collateral security for the balance.—Alb Express

Armed and Equipped as the Law directs. The Californians appear still to have considerable faith in Colt's revolvers as a means of justice. A correspondent of the York Republican thus describes the members of a court in which he was a claimant:—"The counsel opposed to me, General Anderson, a fine-looking old gentleman, was armed with a huge bowie knife, that hung like a broadsword by his side, and I was perhaps the only unarmed man in the body. The Judge had his Colt revolvers buckled on—the spectators had theirs—the grand jury, &c., and, as I said, the sheriff and his assistants theirs. In fact, Colt's revolvers and raw brandy, are a part of every equipment."

POLITE, BUT SLOW.—A stuttering Vermonter was asked the way to Waterbury.—With great politeness he strove to say it was right ahead, but in vain; the more he tried the more he could'nt. At last red in the face, and furious with unavailing exertions, he burst forth with, "Gug-gug go along I. Hang you, you'll gi-gi-gi-get there afore I can tell you!"

"The sound of your hammer," says Franklin, "at five in the morning, or nine at night, heard by a creditor, makes him easy six months longer; but if he sees you at a billiard-table, or hears your voice at a tavern, when you should be at work, he sends for his money the next day."

CONVENTION PROCEEDINGS.—We are unable to publish the official proceedings of the People's Conventions in the different Wards, on account of the space occupied by the Radcliff trial, the report of which we have engaged to publish in full. We can only say the Conventions were harmonious, and that the best feeling prevailed throughout.

The Fifth Ward Convention adopted the following preamble and resolution:—

Whereas both the manner of conducting elections among a free people, and the persons who superintend said elections, should be free from all cause of suspicion and partiality; therefore,

Resolved, That the Aldermen of this Ward be, and hereby are, requested to employ as Clerks, at the ensuing election, only such persons as are known to the community for their integrity, honesty and moral worth.

The Second Ward Convention passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the People of the Second Ward, are in favor of a wise and economical administration of local affairs, and are opposed to the election of any person who seeks the office of Alderman for purposes of personal profit.

Resolved, That we regard the interests of the Ward as of more importance than those of any particular individual or party, and that we have the will as well as the right to nominate and elect such officers as we please, without regard to the dictates of any clique whatever.

Resolved, That we approve of, and do hereby reiterate the sentiments of the resolutions adopted at the Bridge Meeting, held at the Mansion House, on the 4th day of October last, and request our candidates to adhere to the principles there expressed.

Resolved, That we will unite together, heart and hand, to elect the ticket we have nominated, and to save the Ward from the curse of being governed by men whose only principle is personal advantage, no matter at what expense to the people.

Resolved, That the people of the Second Ward would cheerfully support Charles Julius Kern as a Candidate for City Marshal, and recommend him to the other Wards.

We publish the Tickets nominated last evening.

☞ Messrs. West, Johnston and Fishback are all old Democrats, and every Democrat who votes for them, will do a good Democratic deed. There is no use of talking against the thing, because they are to be elected. The Wisconsin will growl in a small way, sort o' carrish like, and the Commercial will howl like the man among the tombs, but nobody will be scared or hurt, but themselves and their doomed candidates. That's all. Wait a little longer—three days—"there's a good time coming, boys!"

Gen. Lewis Cass.

This distinguished man has of late done much to relieve his political character from the charge of "servility," to which his pro-Slavery course in Congress has rendered it obnoxious.

Notwithstanding the fierce denunciations of the hotspurs of the South, the conduct of Gen. Cass, upon the reception of Kossuth, of Hungary, was marked by a spirit of fearless independence and magnanimity that commanded the admiration of both friends and foes.

At the Congressional banquet in Washington, he enunciated his devotion to the sacred cause of Freedom in the glowing declaration:—"I am for the largest liberty to the greatest number, over the whole face of the earth." And again—"I am willing to say that no nation under heaven, whether its chief magistrate wears a hat or a crown, has any right to interfere in the affairs of another nation struggling for human liberty."

In his recent speech in the Senate of the United States, he has most triumphantly vindicated the policy of a declaration by Congress to the same effect. We have read this speech, and we have risen from its perusal with a heart burning with increased love for Freedom, and saddened by the reflection that so chivalrous a champion could not have splintered a single lance in defiance of oppression at home.—Cleve. True Dem.

FLAX COTTON vs. SLAVERY.—We take the following from the Correspondence of the Cleveland True Dem.

"I went to one of the lower rooms in the Capitol, to examine the Flax Cotton, now exhibiting there. I found a gentlemen of pleasing manners, having a large table spread with flax, in its raw state, but partially divested of its ligneous substance; also in its pure fibrous state, in various modified forms, down to what resembled pure cotton, from which I could not distinguish it. He showed us thread made of it, and also made a mixture of cotton and flax, and of cotton and wool. Stockings manufactured from it, and a variety of cloths made of flax cotton solely; also of flax and of common cotton, and of the same article mixed with wool. It receives various colors in high perfection, as you may see from the specimens I herewith transmit.

The machinery used for manufacturing it, is the same as that for manufacturing ordinary cotton. That is, it is carded, spun and woven in the same manner that cotton is. But the making cotton from flax is a different process. On this point, he assures us that he could give seventy-five dollars per ton for flax, which he now can have in abundance at twenty-five, and then sell the cotton at six cents per pound. He says there is a large establishment now in operation in England for the manufacture of this cotton, and that another is very soon to be erected in Connecticut.

If these facts be correctly stated, the downfall of Slavery is near at hand. Nothing but the cotton of the South could have sustained that institution, up to this time. It surely looks as though Providence was intending to take the cause of redeeming this nation from the dark stain of Slavery into its own hands."

Mr. O'Connor, Mrs. Forrest's lawyer, received neither fee nor reward for his services—they were volunteered. Mr. Van Buren, we suspect, got a large fee.—Balt. News.

☞ A traveler, among narrations of wonders of foreign parts, declared he knew a cane a mile long. The company looked incredulous, and it was evident they were not prepared to swallow it; even if it should be sugar cane. "Pray what kind of a cane was it?" asked a gentleman, sneeringly. "It was a hurricane," replied the traveler.

"Please, sir, lend pappy your knife to make a pen with." "Certainly, my son, here it is." [Youth retires with the knife, and returns in about a half an hour.] "Please sir, here's your knife; pappy's done with it." I should think he was. What the devil has he been a doing with it?" "I thought he wanted it to make a pen?" "So he did; but I forgot to say that it was a pig-pen." [Exit youth; a little ahead of an old boot.]

SATURDAY.....FEBRUARY 27.

[Reported for the Daily Democrat.]

Trial of Wm. H. Radcliff, for the Murder of David Ross.

CIRCUIT COURT—Before Judge Hubbell.

A. R. R. Butler, District Attorney, and E. G. Ryan, Esqs., counsel for the prosecution; J. E. Arnold and A. D. Smith, Esqs., counsel for the defence.

Friday Afternoon, Feb. 27.

Mr. Page recalled by defence.—Have taken an active part in ferreting out evidence in this matter, as an officer; more so, perhaps, than any other officer. (Counsel here explained that no imputation against witness was intended.)

Asked by prosecution, if he examined any other person but prisoner. Ans. No.

Asked by defence, if he examined Thompson's boots? Ans. Did not; did not notice whether there was any mud on them. In answer to the question, "When did your last see him? Prisoner answered, "When he left the house"; recollection not distinct, however.

Mr. Reeves, whose cross-examination was put over on account of the burial of his child, was here called, and desired to make a correction. Witness says that Ross came to board with him about the 9th of April; his acquaintance commenced by trading with him at his store; don't know at what time the partnership was dissolved; does not know that Ross entered into any other business; cannot say whether Ross was accustomed to drink, or not; have seen him drink a few times; on his coming home, have sometimes thought he was a little in liquor, but not so much as not to be rational; he was away evenings, and sometimes all night; towards the latter part of his boarding with witness, he was away oftener all night, than at first; during the last week, he was away three nights in succession, and days likewise; during these nights and days, he was not at my house at all; cannot say whether he had withdrawn money from Mrs. Reeves, or not, previous to this time; don't know whether witness was at home when Ross came back, after these days and nights, or not; he appeared as usual; his temper was mild and equable always while at witness' house; do not know whether he visited groceries or not, except that on the Saturday evening previous, he went into a grocery with witness and took a glass of beer; the grocery was opposite Wiglers; Ross took dinner at my house on Sunday; he wore the clothes he usually wore every day; he did not tell me where he was going when he left. Direct examination confirmed as to leaving and as to his intention to return after going to P. O; Ratcliff came to witness' house between 6 and 10 minutes past; Ross did not return; it was about 10 o'clock when Hoffman came to witness' house; it was rather cloudy; believes the moon was down; the three days and nights when Ross was absent were the fore part of the week and Sunday previous was one of them; he was also absent on Friday night following; he gave as a reason for his absence that he had been in the country to buy a farm, this was after the three days absence; he gave no definite account of his absence on Friday night; he first spoke of going to Cincinnati before coming to board with me; and as witness supposed to reside; he first spoke of going on Monday the 5th of May on Saturday as witness thinks; and asked him to give him a helping hand to get ready; he mentioned the place in the country where he went; witness does not recollect the name of it; it was about forty miles distant; said it was where his uncle was; did not know that he had an uncle and have never seen him; spoke once or twice of relations in Boston; Ross was a Scotchman but do not know how long he had been in this country; from what he said he had been in the state since August previous to their acquaintance; hat was taken to witness house in the evening; the hole in the hat appeared to be broken; did not see the hat applied to his head after Ross was laid out; did not notice whether the hole corresponded to any bruise on the head; do not recollect seeing the hat applied at any time; don't recollect putting finger through the hole; the hole was ⅜ of an inch in size; the distance between the nearest part of the body and the marsh was about three feet; the marsh was more wet in the centre than at the side; the marsh was wet at that time; a person could not get thro' marsh where the tracks were without miring into the muck; the tracks I saw were from an inch to an inch and a half deep; witness did not follow the tracks at all in the morning; Mr. Wheelock was with him; don't recollect having seen prisoner before the Sunday when he came to his house; prisoners first inquiry was—does Mr. Ross board here—witness answered he did; prisoner then asked if he was at home; witness said he was not; prisoner then said he was a curious fellow, or something to that effect—that he was a smart chap, and that it would take one all day to find him. Witness told him he had been at home all day, until 2 o'clock, and when he went out said he would be back between 5 and 6. Wit. turned to his clock and said, You had better sit down as it is a little past the time. Ratcliffe came in and sat down. He said that Ross was a fine fellow—an innocent fellow—and he wanted to find him; he had a letter to send to Cincinnati by him. He said, He is going to Cincinnati in the morning—as if he had heard that he was going. Did not say to whom he wanted to send a letter; did not speak of having a brother in Cincinnati; the boxes stood in the same room where prisoner was; one chest might have been in Ross's room; there was a label on one of them; put there when witness owned it; don't know that there was any particular occasion for his speaking of Ross's joking with the girl, except in connection with what he said at first; prisoner said he wanted to see him, and must see him; witness's wife remarked that she thought Ross was coming, and upon this, he stepped to the window and looked out; there was nothing in prisoner's dress that attracted attention; it was near two o'clock when Ross counted money; witness was about six feet from him; witness did not look at the pieces with sufficient care to tell the number; did not count the money Ross entrusted to his wife; the distance from witness's house to Elizabeth street is about half the length of a lot; the distance from front of house to Grove street, is eight feet; don't know a house or grocery kept by Mr. Evans; never heard Ross speak of such a grocery; the belt seemed uniformly divided off into small compartments; witness did not examine it carefully; there was a buckle on one end of it; Ross, when he put money in belt, distributed it among the several apartments; he had more than one watch; saw the gold chain before.

Direct Examination resumed.—There was no water lying on the surface of the marsh; it was merely wet land; (a dirk knife was here exhibited to witness, and witness recognized it as belonging to Ross; another one was also shown him, but witness could not say that he had ever seen it;) there was a gold watch found in belt; the other was a silver one; does not know what became it, or that it was seen after Ross's death; the streets in our part of the town were dry at that time; Sunday night was a cloudy one; there was a small moon for a little while; when Ross came home on Saturday, to stay, it was between 6 and 7 o'clock; he was not off of the premises again until next day at 2 o'clock; he was out of house a few minutes on Sunday morning; Ross used to speak of his wife often; more so than of other relatives; she was dead, but witness cannot say how long she had been dead; witness cannot say that Ross was in the habit, at Saloons, of telling all about himself and affairs.

Mary Reeves, here introduced by prosecution, deposed as follows:—Is the wife of Thaddeus Reeves; knew David Ross; recollect his death in May last; he died on Sunday the 4th day of May in the evening; Mr. Ross boarded at her house; commenced boarding with her on the 9th of April last, and boarded with her until his death; he had money when he came to board with her; he had $180 that witness knows of; he handed it to witness and requested her to keep it until he came back; the money was $20 gold pieces; it continued in her possession until the Tuesday or Wednesday before murder; witness then delivered it to Ross; don't know where he put it; don't know where he was in the habit of keeping his money; he had a money belt which witness first saw on the day of his death; saw it at my house on the table; he laid it out and counted his money; don't know how much money he had on the table; he put the money back into the belt when it was counted and went into his bed-room; he remained there a few moments and came out; don't recollect his saying anything when he came out about belt or money; don't know that he had the belt on Saturday, except from his own statement; on Saturday he came out of his room and put his hand on his sides and said he had been loading up; witness said, "to shoot me;" he replied, "nothing of that kind, I hope;" knew the prisoner by sight; first saw him about a fortnight previous to the murder; he called at witness's house; it was in the day time; he inquired if Mr. Ross was in; witness replied he was not; don't recollect what; he next said he remained a few moments, and went away; did not say what he wanted of Ross; next saw him on Sunday, the day of Ross' murder; it was in the evening between 6 and 7. He inquired for Ross; witness told him he had gone to the Post Office and it was time for him to be back; he said he had been looking for him all day, and it would take a smart chap to find him; he wanted to know what time he went out and when she expected him back; witness replied he went out about 2 o'clock and she expected him back between 5 and 6 o'clock; he was going to the Post Office and was then coming directly home; witness then asked him to come in; he said he would do so, and wait a few moments, as Ross might be back; he spoke about Ross' goods, inquired about his boxes and wanted to know if those there were his and whether he had any others, and if witness knew how he was going to send them; he said he was foolish to take them with him, as he knew the route better than Ross did; he had better send them by express; he spoke of Ross being intimate with a lady up town; said he had bette beware as she was a "hard cud." spoke of Mr. Ross being a clever, honest-hearted fellow; said he would molest no one; when he went out, Mr. Reeves asked him what he should tell Ross, as to who called; he said, just tell him my build, and he will know; he gave his name; nothing further was said; he had on a black hat, a black frock coat, a snuff-colored vest, and mixed pants, as near as witness can recollect; didn't notice whether he was neatly dressed, or not; did not notice whether shirt he had on was clean or dirty; was first informed of Ross's death on Sunday evening, between 9 and 10 o'clock, by Adam Hoffman; witness did not go on to the ground where the body was; Saw Ross' hat the next day but one; saw two breaks in the hat; they looked like three-cornered holes; couldn't say as to size of them; one was on the side of the hat, just under the top, and the other under the band, above the rim; did not notice the condition of the clothing except the flannel and linen, after they were washed; prisoner seemed very anxious to see Ross the Sunday evening he called; don't recollect any thing else peculiar; he manifested his anxiety to see Ross, by getting up and watching at the window; don't recollect of thinking his conduct peculiar, afterwards; he got up and went to the window; once he sat near the window, and kept turning round and looking out of the window.

Cross Examined.—Witness gave Ross $160 when she returned the money, as before testified; she gave him $20 on the 11th of April; he came to board with witness on the 9th, and gave her the money on the 10th; on the 11th he called for $20, to pay for his wife's grave stones; he stated that at the time; witness was not near him when he counted his money on Sunday; was around at work; do not know how much there was; saw him put it into the belt, and go into the room; when he came out, he went into the wash room, to wash him; he was dressed in black; he ordinarily wore black; his dress on Sunday, was different from his week day dress; he dressed up; didn't see outside clothes of Ross until after they were washed; Ross was absent a good many days and a good many nights; when he was boarding with witness, he was absent more or less every week; at one time he was absent three nights; don't know where he was at these times; never heard him say where he was; couldn't say, only from hearsay, that Ross drank; have seen him when I thought he had been drinking; more or less every day; did not know what prisoner meant when he spoke of the intimacy of Ross with the woman up town; witness knew that Ross was going to leave a few days before; know when he was going to leave on Sunday; on Sunday he packed up his things; on the day witness gave Ross his money (Tuesday or Wednesday before) he spoke of buying a farm in the country; witness thinks the farm was 7 miles from Watertown; he stated when he took the money that he had been to see his uncle and his place at Watertown; he did not say who this uncle was or anything about him; don't know of Ross' saying at any time that he was going to see his uncle; never heard him say on leaving anything about going to see uncle or his farm; don't know that any thing was his business when he was boarding at her house; don't think that she should have supposed conduct of prisoner as any thing unusual if the murder had not occurred; could not say whether shirt collar was standing up or turned over; could not say whether pantaloons had straps or not; could'nt say how they were made before; the clothes were grayer than those he has on now; think the vest was not satin; could not say what the material was; it was open but did not notice shirt bosom; could not say whether vest was plain or figured; did'nt notice whether collar of coat was cloth or velvet; his cravat was a light checquered one; no remark was made as to any singularity in prisoner's dress or appearance after he left; witness and husband went to bed about 1-2 past nine; he came in a little before; he went out early in the evening; witness knew the time from looking at the clock when they went to bed; fastened all the doors when went to bed; usually did so; when we went to bed we expected Ross; when we were called up by Hoffman did not look at the clock; had not been to sleep; had been to bed not half an hour.

Direct Examination resumed.—On Saturday night, before the murder, Ross slept at home; never saw him intoxicated; judged that he had been drinking from the smell of his breath when he came in; did not sleep at home on Friday night, previous to murder.

Mr. Reeves recalled—On Sunday night of the Monday previous to the murder he went out; it was about 7 o'clock; went to Mr. Ackman's on Hanover street, thence to Mr. Gillet's, and thence home; when he got home it was a little before 9 o'clock; should think 15 minutes before; went to bed about half past nine; was asleep at the time Hoffman knocked; Gillet's house is on Elizabeth street, east on the same side of street with witness' house; Hanover street is north of Elizabeth street, and east of Greenbush st.; witness could not say when the grave stones were put up; (the knives and piece of belt were here shown Mrs. Reeves.) she had seen the dirk knife before, and could not say that the piece of belt was a part of belt of Ross; did sewing for Ross; did not saw the red flannel on it; Mr. Reeves also deposed that he did not know when flannel was sewed on; Ross was not in the habit of telling witness where he had been; he once pointed to a brick house in Kilbourntown where he had been the night before; think this is the only time; didn't say whose house it was; he said he was there dancing; witness thinks this was on Sunday, when he and Ross were walking near the light house; the house was a little north from a straight line west from where they stood; The house was a 2 story house.

Alexander Douglas, next witness for prosecution, testified as follows:—Knows prisoner; knew David Ross, but not long; heard of death of Ross; saw prisoner and Ross together once before that; it was at a small house at the foot of Main street, kept by Mr. Webb; this was from 20 to 24 days before Ross' death; didn't then appear to be acquainted; they became acquainted a little; Ross asked witness who Radcliffe was, but Radcliffe did not ask who Ross was; they were not formally introduced; they spoke together; they both had friends in Cincinnati.

Cross-Examined.—Don't recollect the day of the week; it was in afternoon, at 3 or 4 o'clock; it was week day; there were two gentlemen there from Cincinnati, and Mr. Ross and Mr. Radcliffe were speaking together about their friends; don't recollect who came in with Radcliffe; Ross came there to see these men; Radcliffe was not there at the time; the house was a boarding house; Ross had a letter to send by these men; they were going away next morning; witness resides in 5th Ward; know Mr. Ross about six weeks; he boarded before, and a short time after his wife died, at Mr. Wejler's, and then went to Reeves; can't say where boarded at the time witness went to Webb's with him; was with Ross sometimes; he often came to witness's house; is from same county; have seen him drink beer, but not often; drank with him sometimes, but not often; witness makes shingles.

Direct Examination Resumed.—Thinks Ross' wife died about two months before Ross did; [one of the jurymen here, put some questions which, however, elicited nothing pertinent to the case.]

Direct Examination Resumed.—Witness does not remember who treated first at the house; did not drink several times.

Doctor Hatchard—next introduced for prosecution, deposed as follows:—Has been a practising physician since 1840; saw the body of David Ross after his death; it was at the house of Mr. Reeves, the day after the murder; casually noticed the wounds in the body; the wounds most particularly noticed were the mortal wounds; there was a little above and behind the eye a contused wound on the scalp, on applying fingers found a large hole in the skull extending into the brain; the edges of the upper part of wound were cut about an inch long; appeared to be part of the hole, as if produced by the same blow; (witness here made a diagram of head and showed the position and shape and described the nature of the wound) on the back part of head; there was another wound and hole in which fingers could be inserted to the brain; the wound was a little to the west of the occipital protuberance; there were smaller bruises and wounds, but the ones described were the principal mortal ones; the wonder is that he lived so long, as he is said to have done; either one was sufficient to produce death; there were no other wounds reaching the brain; noticed no other adequate cause of death than the wounds described; the injuries witness thought at time must have been produced by a large hammer, (an iron instrument was here shown witness and he said the wounds must have been produced by an instrument as formidable as that one;) they might as well have been produced by that instrument as by any other witness can imagine; witness saw the hat said to have been worn by Ross; noticed a break in hat a little to the left of the tuft of crape on back of hat; a sort of stellated or triangular break; as if broken in two or three directions; witness did not apply hat to head of deceased; but said to Dr. Dowe who held the hat in his hand, that hole must correspond with the hole in the head; the hole in the hat was a little above the rim; and the hole in the head was a little to the left of the occipital protuberance; the hole in the head could have been produced through the hat and left a much smaller hole in the hat than would be made in the head.

Cross Examination.—It was about mid-day when witness got there; passed fingers directly forward into the hole; thrust fingers as far as length of fingers would allow into the hole in the back of head; some portion of brain might have exuded; there had been another Physician there; witness has never seen cancelling hammer; sorry to say has nothing to do with banking; the wound would not remind witness of any particular instrument except one that would drive into the skull; witness should think the wound might as well as have been made by a rivetting hammer; could'nt say whether such an instrument as the one produced would cut through the hat or not; if it did the incision would be semi-circular; if the hat was stiff it would break in different directions; does not think one could live an hour after receiving such wounds; should think they would produce death within a minute; the loss of blood would be very great, if he died from the hemorrage he would probably collapse in three minutes; if the lateral sinus was ruptured the flow of blood would be much more free: the bruise over the left eye might have been produced in falling.

Direct Examination Resumed.—Should think Ross was 5 feet 10 in height; the bruises it is not probable were produced by the same instrument as produced the mortal wounds; a cancelling hammer with several blades, projecting from surface at right angles, would not account for any of the wounds; a stone hammer would; a parley arising as to what sort of impression a cancelling hammer would make; Mr. Ryan thought some of the Jury were probably acquainted with it.

Adjourned till ½ past 8.

Saturday Morning, Feb. 28.

John White, recalled by prosecution testified: In examining the spot on the boot; witness also noticed a hair on it; it was fastened to the boot about in the centre of the spot. The hair was over an inch long. The color of it was a darkish brown. The last time I saw the hair on the boot was in the Grand Jury room; witness thinks it was rubbed off then. When witness was at the house making the arrest there was no other person searched but prisoner.

Cross Examination.—Thinks the hair was on the spot when it was cut out; thinks spot was cut out by Dr. Garner. The color of hair resembled Mr. Butlers'; witness thinks it is not very easy to tell the color of a single hair; he looked at it in the light and in the shade—couldn't swear that it was the hair of a man; cannot swear that it was'nt the hair of an ox, cow, or dog; it might have been the hair of any animal as well as of a man; do not know what has become of it; noticed the hair of Ross; he had a remarkable head of hair; what witness would call a good head of hair; the color was about as dark as Criers. The blood was not entirely cleaned from the hair; they were cleaning it at the time; discovered at prisoners' house no signs of a recent washing. In all the search witness found nothing, he thought connected with this transaction except what he has already testified to.

William Quick, called by prosecution, deposed as follows: Resides on Main Street, 3d Ward; is a blacksmith; worked in May last, at Nelson Soggs' in this city; knows prisoner; knew him in May last; saw him at Soggs' shop some time in the latter part of last April; recollect hearing of the death of Ross, prisoner was at shop about 10 days before; it was 10 or 11 o'clock in forenoon; inquired for Soggs'; witness told him Soggs had gone to Chicago that morning on the boat; he said he wanted to see him; turned round and inquired if there was any ½ inch round iron; witness said he had none in shop but had some 9-16ths of an inch; he picked up a piece off of the floor; put it into one of the fires, heated it, and turned an eye on one end of it, and wanted witness to put a head on the other end; witness did so. The iron was 19 or 20 inches long. There was no other fire vacant but mine at the time; prisoner is a blacksmith. The iron was here produced and recognized by witness; witness sees no difference between this and the one made by him except that the bar of this is ½ inch and there was no ½ inch iron in the shop; witness went to dinner, leaving it on the floor; returned at 1 o'clock; prisoner was out doors when witness left; was not there on his return; the instrument was not there; don't know where prisoner was when he went to dinner.

Witness asked the prisoner what he wanted the instrument for; he said he wanted to hang it on the end of a spring pole of a punching machine; asked him no more about it; the piece of iron put on the end of the instrument forming the head witness picked up from the floor. The day of the week was Friday, the Friday but one previous to the death of Ross.

Cross Examination.—Have known defendant over 8 years have worked in the same shop with him, of Soggs & Cummings; have never had any difficulty with him; first inquired for Soggs; remember the time right well; kept no dates, or memorandum. The boat was not at the wharf at the time prisoner came to shop; Soggs clerk, at that time, was Lathrop; Lathrop is now in Sheboygan; Lathrop was not then starting for wharf; there were 4 fires in the shop at the time, and all occupied; one by witness, another where rivets were made by a small man whose name witness does'nt remember; another by a man named Rinsink; William McKibbe had the other one. Prisoner asked for iron; witness was doing a job for steamboat, was making a strap for hog-chain, had just finished it; prisoner told witness to make the head and inch and a half in diameter; needn't be particular; told him to make it round and weld it on the head; didn't tell him how he should weld it on; witness has never seen the spring pole of a punching machine; didn't ask prisoner what it was; can't swear to the exact time when prisoner came to the shop; saw him walk in the shop door; had been in about 10 minutes before he commenced conversation with witness; don't remember how long he had been in the shop before the iron was finished; don't recollect when Radcliff went out; don't know where he went. Thomas Holmes was in the shop when witness went to dinner; he was there when witness returned.

Thomas Holmes, here called by prosecution, deposed: Resides in Jefferson County; lived in the 4th ward in May last; was a boiler maker, in Mr. Soggs shop; knew prisoner; had known him 8 or 9 months prior to his arrest; knew William Quick; recollect hearing of the death of Ross; saw prisoner several times in Soggs' shop before Ross' death; did not see him making an iron, but recollect his coming to the shop a few days before the death of Ross; saw such an iron as the one in Court at the shop 10 or 12 days before arrest; when witness first saw it, Quick was dropping it on the floor. Prisoner had been in the shop a short time before; there were 6 or 8 persons working in the shop; didn't go to dinner from the shop that day; did not leave the shop; was the only person in the shop during dinner hour, the other hands left about the same time. Prisoner was in the shop between 12 and 1, while the other hands were absent; witness was eating dinner; prisoner said "How do you do;" witness was in one corner of the shop; he said nothing more he inquired for nobody; he remained from 5 to 10 minutes; can't say that he did any thing; can't say that witness saw him leave; he came in and walked down the shop past the addition where the rivet making fire was; when he passed the addition witness couldn't see him, and did not watch him; couldn't see anvil of rivet fire; saw nothing in his hand while in the shop; took nothing away from shop, as prisoner knows; could not see back-door from where witness was sitting; could not have gone out of front door without witness seeing him; have never seen the iron since; continued working in shop up to the latter end of October; no other stranger came into the shop until Quick returned; witness did not go near Quicks' anvil while he was gone to dinner.

Cross Examination.—Witness could not say whether prisoner went out of front or back door; it is common for brother chips to go into each others' shops; prisoner might have gone out of front door without being noticed by witness. Witness took no notice of what was done with instrument; back door was generally closed, and a piece of iron placed against it; doesn't know that it was shut at that time; some other person might have come in if door was open, and gone to Quick's anvil without being seen by witness. The floor is a ground floor. The business of shop is ship smithing and boiler making. Prisoner had on a hat and black frock coat, not much worn; couldn't say what kind of pantaloons, vest or shirt.—Witness couldn't swear positively as to color of coat only it was dark colored; prisoner was near front door when witness first saw him at noon.

Mr. Quick recalled. Prisoner never inquired of witness for the instrument after he threw it on floor, and went to dinner; witness's fire and anvil was about midway between front and back door; first man seen by witness, when he came back to shop, was Holmes; does not remember that any one else was in shop; can't say whether back door was fastened or not; it was usually fastened by hook and staples on the inside, and it could be opened from outside by putting hand thro' the window.

Dr. Orton, here called by prosecution, deposed as follows:—Is a practicing Physician and Surgeon; have been one since 1842; didn't know David Ross; doesn't know prisoner; recollects the death of Ross; was present at post mortem examination of his body; saw Squire Parsons about half past 10 o'clock on that day, and he said it might be necessary to have a dissection of the head. The jury adjourned from the house to Parson's office. The deceased lay upon his left side; the first wound that attracted witness's attention was an incised gash over the right eye, about an inch in length. There was another one about at right angles with this, extending to it but not crossing it, also incised, having the appearance of being made with a sharp instrument, a cutting edge. The skull underneath was not fractured. There was a little, above and back of the left eye, quite a large hole; a triangular hole, incised in front; the edges in front quite smooth and a gash extending above the incised part of wound. Witness put his finger in and found the fracture of skull larger than the incised wound; the hole was large enough for two fingers; as witness put his finger in he turned it back a little over the left ear and found the bone somewhat broken but not displaced. Witness found another large hole a little to the left of the occipital protuberance; put three fingers into it; it was two inches in length, and the skull was broken in. The occipital bone is the back bone of the head; noticed no other gashes or injuries. The brain had been disturbed; thinks a portion had escaped; either one of the last wounds described would produce death; saw no other cause of death; examined no part of body but head.

The iron instrument was here produced and District Attorney asked witness if the wounds he had described might not have been produced by an instument similar to that, and Mr. Smith submitted to the Court that it was for the Jury to determine by what instrument the wound was inflicted after having it described. The Court thought it was proper for a witness to testify as to the, cause of wound or the nature of the instrument by which it was produced—exception taken.

Witness thinks the wounds, with the exception of that over the eye, might as well have been produced by such an instrument as any other; cannot see how the one over the eye could have been produced by such an instrument; the wound over the eye and the other wounds must have been produced by different instruments.

Cross Examination.—The edges of the skull in the temple wound were somewhat ragged; can't say that the back part of wound formed an acute angle; should think it somewhat circular; there was a portion of bone between the two fractures unbroken. Such an instrument as the one shown witness would or would not drive in skin on the upper edge, according to the force used in applying it; the temporal muscle is about 1-8 inch in thickness; instrument with such an edge would not necessarily tear the muscle; thinks a hammer would not produce such a wound as it would be flat. If the edge of a hammer was applied it would produce an incised wound with a smash back. The quality of the skull in front of temple is quite thin and brittle; it would be likely to break and leave a jagged edge. A fracture in the skull near temporal bone would not necessarily receive the shape of instrument by which it was produced; the bone back of head near occipital bone is thicker, and thinks a fracture of it would not receive the shape of instrument. It would depend, however, upon velocity; if a hat intervened the fracture, whatever might be the velocity, would not receive shape of instrument if hat did not. Witness does not think he felt edge of bone on both sides of wound on inserting fingers; the wound was two inches in length; can't say how wide it was exactly; impression is that a portion of the brain was entirely broken off and forced in; the scalp partly adhered and was partly forced in. Don't think there was any regularity of form in wound in back part of head; the scalp was attached in front and detached in rear of wound; the wound witness thinks not as long as wide. A wound made with such an instrument if there was but one blow, and if the instrument entered the head, would be as broad as long; the bone of the wound was forced clear into the head and formed a hole. The temporal wound was large enough for his fingers; witness did not see hat; thinks the wound on the temple was made while the man was standing up, and by some one from behind; the wound on back of head might have been made while the person was standing. Witness thinks a wound such as the one on the temple might have been made with so large an instrument; if the instrument went in it would make a larger hole than the one described.

Charles Lutze, introduced by prosecution, deposed as follows: Lives on East Water st.; is a glove maker; place of business is 4th door south of Cordes' corner, in 3d Ward; does not know the prisoner; never saw him before. The portion of belt was shown witness, and he said the leather part was his work, but not the flannel; did not know Ross until he bought some articles of him; there was another person with him, who bargained for the articles and Ross paid for them; Ross bought nothing but this belt and paid four shillings for it; the length of belt when he bought it, was about three times the length of the piece; the ends were fastened by a buckle and strap; there were two compartments in the middle larger than the others; those in the middle were each about half the length of a bank bill. The man who came with Ross had a large head of hair and a full face; hair lighter than prisoner's; was in his shirt sleeves, and had on a red under shirt, with sleeves of white shirt turned over. This was one or two days before the report of Ross's death. The hair of the man was in much confusion and he was not sober; the hair had no definite color; it was not red or auburn; he was a broad-shouldered man, and his face was bloated; about 30 years old; about as tall as himself. Witness heard of the murder in the forenoon, and was told that it was committed on that day; a German woman told him; not longer than two days before that Ross bought the belt.

Cross Examination. Did not know Ross' name when he bought the belt; witness first saw piece of belt when some one came and asked him if it came from his shop; it was some days after the murder; don't recollect the day of the week he sold the belt; it was in the afternoon. The man that was murdered asked for the belt; knows who was murdered from the description of him the woman gave; it occurred to witness at that moment that it was the man who bought the belt. If she had described the other man as the one murdered it would have occurred to him who it was. He observed the man most who wanted the belt; the other man looked out of the window often. Ross stood before him. Ross was the tallest man, and the other man the strongest. Ross was well dressed; had on a black coat with crape on his hat, Ross' hair was dark brown, not very long or very short; had two belts, kept the other one until some time afterwards; thinks has never since that day seen that man; took no pains to remember; prisoner is not the man; could not judge whether Ross was taller than prisoner or not; could not exactly say that Ross was taller than the man with him in the shop; cannot say whether the man with Ross had anything on his head or not; did not notice him particularly. They were in the shop 5 or 8 minutes.

Direct Examination. Store was about 16 feet Square.

Court adjourned.

Balky Horses.—The practice of an English friend, who has cured numbers of them, is to hitch a steady horse or team behind them and pull them backwards. It should be done on smooth fair ground. The refractory beast will not relish such treatment, and will soon be glad to go forward at the word of command. The most stubborn will yield and be perfectly true and tractable after three or four tutorings. The aforementioned friend tells me, he never failed in a single instance to conquer, and that too without the stroke of a whip, or otherwise maltreating the animal.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

GREAT WORK ON CIVILIZATION.

This valuable work, has just arrived at

C. OTT'S BOOKSTORE.

It is the work of the age. From a large number of liberal and highly complimentary notices of this work, from the religious and secular press, we only select the following:

"This admirable work is at length before us, and we hasten to inform our readers of the valuable addition, which has thus been made to the Literature of our country. The work is by far the most important of its kind, ever published in this country. It is in fact a complete library in itself, condensed and so arranged as to bring the whole question within the grasp of the humblest reader. It appears most appropriately at the present time, and will, no doubt, prove an instrument of great efficacy in the work of diffusing sound doctrines on the matters of which it treats."—Truth Teller. april 23

H. N. DAVIS'S COLUMN,

WAUKESHA.

For the Removal and Permanent Cure of all NERVOUS DISEASES,

And of those Complaints which are caused by an impaired, weakened or unhealthy condition of the

NERVOUS SYSTEM.

This beautiful and convenient application of the mysterious powers of GALVANISM and MAGNETISM, has been pronounced by distinguished physicians, both in Europe and the United States, to be the most valuable medicinal discovery of the Age.

Dr. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC BELT

is used with the most perfect and certain success in all cases of

GENERAL DEBILITY,

Strengthening the weakened body, giving tone to the various organs, and invigorating the entire system. Also in FITS, CRAMP, PARALYSIS and PALSY, DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, ACUTE and CHRONIC, GOUT, EPILEPSY, LUMBAGO, DEAFNESS, NERVOUS TREMORS, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, APOPLEXY, NEURALGIA, PAINS in the SIDE and CHEST, LIVER COMPLAINT, SPINAL COMPLAINT, and CURVATURE of the SPINE, HIP COMPLAINT, DISEASES of the KIDNEYS, DEFICIENCY of NERVOUS and PHYSICAL ENERGY, and all NERVOUS DISEASES, which complaints arise from one simple cause—namely,

A Derangement of the Nervous System.

☞In NERVOUS COMPLAINTS, Drugs and Medicines increase the disease, for they weaken the vital energies of the already prostrated system; while, under the strengthening, life-giving, vitalizing influence of Galvanism, as applied by this beautiful and wonderful discovery, the exhausted patient and weakened sufferer is restored to former health, strength, elasticity and vigor

The great peculiarity and excellence of

consists in the fact that they arrest and cure disease by outward application, in place of the usual mode of drugging, and physicking the patient, till exhausted Nature sinks hopelessly under the infliction.

They strengthen the whole system, equalize the circulation of the blood, promote the secretions, and never do the slightest injury under any circumstances. Since their introduction in the United States, only three years since more than

75,000 Persons

including all ages, classes and conditions, among which were a large number of ladies, who are peculiarly subject to Nervous Complaints, have been

when all hope of relief had been given up, and every thing else been tried in vain!

To illustrate the use of the GALVANIC BELT, suppose the case of a person afflicted with that bane of civilization, DYSPEPSIA, or any other Chronic or Nervous Disorder. In ordinary cases, stimulants are taken which, by their action on the nerves and muscles of the stomach, afford temporary relief, but which leave the patient in a lower state, and with injured faculties, after the action thus excited has ceased. Now compare this with the effect resulting from the application of the GALVANIC BELT. Take a Dyspeptic sufferer, even in the worst symptoms of an attack, and simply tie the Belt around the Body, using the Magnetic Fluid as directed. In a short period the insensible perspiration will act on the positive element of the Belt, thereby causing a Galvanic circulation which will pass on to the negative, and thence back again to the positive, thus keeping up a continuous Galvanic circulation throughout the system. Thus the most severe cases of DYSPEPSIA are PERMANENTLY CURED. A FEW DAYS IS AMPLY SUFFICIENT TO ERADICATE THE DISEASE OF YEARS.

CERTIFICATES AND TESTIMONIALS

Of the most Undoubted Character,

From all parts of the country could be given, sufficient to fill every column in this paper!

AN EXTRAORDINARY CASE,

which conclusively proves that

"Truth is stranger than Fiction."

CURE OF

RHEUMATISM, BRONCHITIS, AND DYSPEPSIA.

REV. DR. LANDIS, A CLERGYMAN

of New Jersey, of distinguished attainments and exalted reputation:—

SIDNEY, New Jersey, July 12, 1848.

DR. A. H. CHRISTIE—Dear Sir: You wish to know of me what has been the result in my own case, of the application of THE GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE. My reply is as follows:

For about twenty years I had been suffering from Dyspepsia. Every year the symptoms became worse, nor could I obtain permanent relief from any course of medical treatment whatever. About fourteen years since, in consequence of frequent exposure to the weather, in the discharge of my pastoral duties, I became subject to a severe Chronic Rheumatism, which for year after year, caused me indescribable anguish. Farther: in the winter of '45 and '46, in consequence of preaching a great deal in my own and various other churches in this region, I was attacked by the Bronchitis, which soon became so severe as to require an immediate suspension of my pastoral labors. My nervous system was now thoroughly prostrated, and as my Bronchitis became worse, so also did my Dyspepsia and Rheumatic affection—thus evincing that these disorders were connected with each other through the medium of the Nervous System. In the whole pharmacopœia there seemed to be no remedial agent which could reach and recuperate my Nervous System; every thing that I had tried for this purpose had completely failed. At last I was led by my friends to examine your inventions, and (though with no very sanguine hopes of their efficiency,) I determined to try the effect of the application of the GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE, with the MAGNETIC FLUID. This was in June, 1846. TO MY GREAT ASTONISHMENT, IN TWO DAYS MY DYSPEPSIA HAD GONE; IN EIGHT DAYS I WAS ENABLED TO RESUME MY PASTORAL LABORS, NOR HAVE I SINCE OMITTED A SINGLE SERVICE ON ACCOUNT OF THE BRONCHITIS; AND MY RHEUMATIC AFFECTION HAS ENTIRELY CEASED TO TROUBLE ME. Such is the wonderful and happy results of the experiment.

I have recommended the BELT and FLUID to many who have been likewise suffering from Neuralgic affections. They have tried them, WITH HAPPY RESULTS, I BELIEVE IN EVERY CASE.

I am, dear sir, very respectfully yours,

ROBERT W. LANDIS.

DR. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC NECKLACE.

Is used for all complaints affecting the Throat or Head, such as Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dizziness of the Head, Neuralgia in the Face, Buzzing or Roaring in the Ears, Deafness, which is generally Nervous, and that distressing complaint, called Tic Doloreux.

DR. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC BRACELETS

Are found of vast service in cases of Convulsions or Fits, Spasmodic Complaints, and general Nervous Affections of the Head and upper extremities. Also in Palsy and Paralysis, and all diseases caused by a deficiency of power or Nervous Energy in the limbs or other organs of the body.

☞Many hundred Certificates from all parts of the country of the most extraordinary character can be given, if required.

☞No trouble or inconvenience attends the use of DR. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC ARTICLES, and they may be worn by the most feeble and delicate, with perfect ease and safety. In many cases the sensation attending their use is highly pleasant and agreeable. They can be sent to any part of the country.

CRANE'S PATENT SOAP took the FIRST PREMIUM at the State Fair at Janesville; also at the State Fair of New York, and at the great Fair of the American Institute—of course it did; because it is the BEST SOAP IN USE. "We have used CRANE'S PATENT SOAP in our families for the past eight months, and pronounce it fully equal to its recommendations. We do not discover that it injures clothing in the least. It is the cheapest Soap in use. We should not willingly do without it. J P GREVES, M D,

PEOPLE'S NOMINATIONS IN THE FOURTH WARD.—The Democratic Convention made an entirely new ticket for Aldermen—rejecting the only Democratic Alderman elected from the Ward last year—and repudiated the the principle of the new City Charter that one Alderderman should not for two consecutive years. The People's Convention nominated Messrs. Johnston and Fishback, aldermen for one year, and Mr. West, President of the present Board, alderman, for 2 years. It is very important for the interests of this Ward, the coming year, when the city debt is to be funded, and the new Charter is to be put in operation, that at least one man should be in the new Board, who has been a member of the old Board, and who is familiar with the affairs of the Ward. We think the Convention acted wisely and for the best interests of the Ward in nominating Mr. West. Mr. Johnston we know as a man of good common sense, and a practical business man, who attends well to his own affairs, and would take good care of the public interests. With Mr. Fishback we are not acquainted, but he was strongly recommended by those in the Convention who knew him.

Of the remaining persons on the ticket we need not speak. They are well known in the Ward, and were heartily supported in the Convention. The people will say next Tuesday whether the ticket nominated last evening shall be elected. To their decision we shall cheerfully submit.

BARS DOWN.—It is generally understood that the Democratic pasture is open, and that every one can pasture his pony in the richest clover he can find. For instance, Messrs. Chandler, Kane and Force were last year, bolters from the Democratic party and opposed the Democratic ticket, and this year they are rewarded for bolting by being assigned to the chief seats in the synagogue. It is a happy state of things when every Democrat can do just as he pleases, and vote for those he thinks the best men, and not be censured for it, even though he votes against the regular nominations. Those who did so last year are the most honored now.

WINTER AGAIN.—A light fall of snow gives a wintry aspect to the weather once more. The sky looks dark and lowering, and there is a small prospect of sleighing, provided enough falls.

RELIANCE WORKS.—Messrs. Decker & Seville, Proprietors.—On Thursday last, we took a hasty look through this manufacturing establishment, on West Water street. There are 12 workmen in the molding room. They melt 2,600 pounds in one hour. The furnace has a cast-iron cupola of 8 feet; cupola and chimney 30 feet. A blacksmith's shop in the rear, with two fires blown by the engine. The engine is of 12 horse power, heated with wood. They have three emery wheels, and one grindstone of a ton's weight. In the machine shop are two lathes. They manufacture stoves of all kinds and stove furniture, fire fronts, wagon-boxes, sleigh-shoes, large kettles, mill-picks, corn-crackers to cut cob with corn, and small mills in cast-iron frames ready to be fastened down in the mill, and have the belt put on. The stove plate patterns are all of cast-iron. There is a shop for putting the stoves together. North of the iron works is the shop for making French Burr Mill Stones. The stones come from France, are hard and porous, average 15 inches long, 8 inches wide, and 8 inches thick. Some stones are harder than others. Those of similar temper or hardness are worked together. They are united by cement, and when completed are from a foot and a half to four feet and a half in diameter. The top or running stones range from one and a half to two feet in thickness, and the bed stones average about nine inches. They have the largest Mill Stone manufactory west of the city of New York.

Their Sales Room is at 127 East Water st., where the various articles manufactured can be procured. See Advertisement.

O. A. BROWNSON.—This individual who tried all known methods of saving his soul, without finding any benefit until he became a Jesuit, has lately delivered a lecture before the Young Men's Library Association at Cincinnati, against Kossuth and Intervention.—He said Austria and Russia were right, Hungary was wrong and Kossuth was a traitor.—This was received with storms of hisses. Denunciations from Jesuits and tyrants is pretty good evidence that Kossuth is a true friend of liberty and the people.

☞ We are informed that the person who brought in the ticket for the Democratic caucus, in the Fourth Ward, wished the names for Aldermen, printed separately, but our printers did not so understand it. There was no design we are satisfied, in the ordering or the printing of the tickets to prejudice Mr. West's nomination. Why he was not nominated, can be answered hereafter, if the inquiry is pushed.

JOHNY BOOKER.—This eccentric specimen of the genus homo, who has such an astonishing faculty of exciting the risibilities, together with the Little Bailey's, who "tip the light fantastic toe" like so many "fairies," gives another of their pleasant, and agreeable entertainments at Gardiner's Hall, to-night.

Doct. Woolsey, has proffered his services in several favorite ballads. This will, of course add much interest to the occasion.

CLOTHING AND TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT.—In these hard times, it is a great blessing to be able to provide one's self with cheap, and at the same time comfortable and elegant clothing. Mr. N. JEWETT keeps not only all kinds of ready-made clothing, for both the wholesale and retail trade, but also cloths of all kinds, which he makes up to order, in the best style and at the shortest notice. In the cutting and manufacturing department he employs the best talent, and any garment ordered which does not give perfect satisfaction, need not be taken. Persons from the country are especially invited to call, and examine his stock, and make trial of his skill, as he declines to yield the palm to any one in the tailoring department.

☞ The Wisconsin exultingly says that the Maine Law cannot be passed in New York, nor in Wisconsin.

An Example to be followed by those who are older.—The messengers of the Assembly of New York, about a dozen little boys under the age of twelve, have formed themselves into an association called the "Young Temperance Guard of the Assembly." They have signed a pledge to abstain from all intoxicating drinks.

Religious Revival.—We learn from the Green Bay Spectator, that nearly all the population of the mining country in the vicinity of Eagle River, on Lake Superior, have lately became converted, during a religious excitement in that region.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The citizens of Dodge and Jefferson counties, met recently at Watertown, organized an Agricultural Society, and made a selection of the following officers:

For President.—A. H. Atwater, of Dodge county.

For Secretary.—J. A. Headley, of Jefferson county.

For Treasurer.—L. A. Cole, of Jefferson county.

For Example Committee.—Wm. M. Dennis and Benj. Fuller, of Dodge county; Linus R. Cady and John Richards, of Jefferson county.

FIRE AT CHICAGO.—Four buildings were destroyed by fire at Chicago, on Wednesday night last.

☞ The People's City Convention, meets at the Common Council Room this Evening at 7 o'clock.

☞ A little daughter of James L. Little, of Boston, was poisoned to death on Wednesday, by taking a dose of indelible ink, administered by the nurse, in mistake for cough drops.

Two students have been expelled from Brown University, and Messrs. Norton, Porter and Greene, three of the ablest Professors have sent in their resignation, in consequence of a disagreement with Mr. Wayland the President.

"CAN IT BE POSSIBLE?"—With this wondering ejaculation, the Journal, of yesterday, headed a short article on the fact that Kossuth had not made a pilgrimage to the tomb of Washington. It says it cannot persuade itself that he will leave the country without doing it, however pressing his engagements, or however urgent the call for him to return to his own country; and that "he owes it to himself and the cause he advocates, to pay a tribute of respect to the World's Great Teacher, the MAN who, having founded an empire, resigned his authority into the hands of the people from whom he received it," &c.

We think the Journal's amazement entirely uncalled for, bordering on the ridiculous and the superstitious! Kossuth, by devoting himself night and day, in sickness and in health, with the whole strength of his body and mind, to establishing the liberties of his own country, and thus following the example of Washington, pays a far better tribute of respect to that great and good man, than he would by any formal pilgrimage to his tomb, to manifest a ceremonious sorrow over his senseless ashes. Nor can we admire that taste which represents Washington as the "founder of an empire." He never was the "founder of an empire," and it seems to us to be an unwise attempt at adulation to call him so.

The Journal, in this matter, has followed the lead of Senator Clemens, of Alabama. And we believe their sentiments are also united in favor of slave catching. The difference between them and Kossuth is this. They, like certain individuals of old, believe in "building the tombs of the prophets and garnishing the sepulchres of the righteous," while they enact laws to make slaves of the living! Kossuth, like another Individual of old, believes in devoting his energies to the good of the living, and in leaving "the dead," not "to bury their dead," but to repose quietly in their tombs.

THE COMPROMISE.—It is, therefore, gratifying that the recent compromise measures have proved to be as they were regarded by the eminent statesman who penned them, "a settlement—in principle and substance a final settlement—of the dangerous and exciting subjects which they embraced.—Journal.

This statement is perpetually repeated by those who wish to believe it, seemingly in the hope by such constant repetition to persuade themselves that it is true. They might as well assert that the triumph of the Austro-Russian armies in Hungary, and the Coup d'Etat of Napoleon the Little, were the "final settlement" of the question of human liberty in Europe! Even now the slave holders are making preparations to introduce slaves into California, and to divide the State, giving them one portion. They will probably claim the whole, and then these men who now boast so much about "a final settlement," will give them half; in order to make another "final settlement," and will consider that they performed a glorious act, in not surrendering the whole. And thus they will go on, if their policy is not checked, making constant concessions to the slave power, until it is "finally settled" that the principle of liberty has been entirely overthrown in this country. But we trust and hope that, by the unceasing efforts of the friends of freedom, altogether a different settlement, may yet be made.

HONESTY IS THE POLICY.—Day before yesterday a heavy silk house in this city, which has especially cultivated the Southern trade, and which was one of the supplest worshippers of the divinity of slave-catching and an eminent support of the famous Union Safety Committee, went by the board. The liabilities were large, and the failure is understood to be a bad one.

Nor is this house alone in this retributive calamity. Many of the prominent dry-goods establishments which went in for Southern patronage at the time when Castle Garden was in all its glory, and when the Union was to be saved by shouting for the Fugitive Slave Law, have fallen victims to their patriotism, and have smashed up by reason of too much of that custom for which they made sacrifices so considerable.

Meanwhile another large silk house, which was violently assailed and made the special object of proscription because its principles were not kept in market as well as its merchandise, has done a thriving and substantial business and is in the enjoyment of unimpeachable prosperity and credit.—N. Y. Tribune.

A Bank Not Suited for Usury.—The Western Bank, at Springfield, sued John Mills for notes to the amount of $18,000, endorsed by him, for the members of a firm who are now insolvent. The payment was resisted on the ground of illegal proceedings in discounting the notes, and also on account of usury. The Supreme Court has sustained the objections. The bank, it is supposed, will lose about $13,000 of the $18,000, having collateral security for the balance.—Alb Express

Armed and Equipped as the Law directs. The Californians, appear still to have considerable faith in Colt's revolvers as a means of justice. A correspondent of the York Republican thus describes the members of a court in which he was a claimant:—"The counsel opposed to me, General Anderson, a fine-looking old gentleman, was armed with a huge bowie knife, that hung like a broadsword by his side, and I was perhaps the only unarmed man in the body. The Judge had his Colt revolvers buckled on—the spectators had theirs—the grand jury, &c., and, as I said, the sheriff and his assistants theirs. In fact, Colt's revolvers and raw brandy, are a part of every equipment."

POLITE, BUT SLOW.—A stuttering Vermonter was asked the way to Waterbury.—With great politeness he strove to say it was right ahead, but in vain; the more he tried the more he could'nt. At last red in the face, and furious with unavailing exertions, he burst forth with, "Gug-gug go along! Hang you, you'll gi-gi-gi-get there afore I can tell you!"

"The sound of your hammer," says Franklin, "at five in the morning, or nine at night, heard by a creditor, makes him easy six months longer; but if he sees you at a billiard-table, or hears your voice at a tavern, when you should be at work, he sends for his money the next day."

CONVENTION PROCEEDINGS.—We are unable to publish the official proceedings of the People's Conventions in the different Wards, on account of the space occupied by the Radcliff trial, the report of which we have engaged to publish in full. We can only say the Conventions were harmonious, and that the best feeling prevailed throughout.

The Fifth Ward Convention adopted the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas both the manner of conducting elections among a free people, and the persons who superintend said elections, should be free from all cause of suspicion and partiality; therefore,

Resolved, That the Aldermen of this Ward be, and hereby are, requested to employ as Clerks, at the ensuing election, only such persons as are known to the community for their integrity, honesty and moral worth.

The Second Ward Convention passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the People of the Second Ward, are in favor of a wise and economical administration of local affairs, and are opposed to the election of any person who seeks the office of Alderman for purposes of personal profit.

Resolved, That we regard the interests of the Ward as of more importance than those of any particular individual or party, and that we have the will as well as the right to nominate and elect such officers as we please, without regard to the dictates of any clique whatever.

Resolved, That we approve of, and do hereby reiterate the sentiments of the resolutions adopted at the Bridge Meeting, held at the Mansion House, on the 4th day of October last, and request our candidates to adhere to the principles there expressed.

Resolved, That we will unite together, heart and hand, to elect the ticket we have nominated, and to save the Ward from the curse of being governed by men whose only principle is personal advantage, no matter at what expense to the people.

Resolved, That the people of the Second Ward would cheerfully support Charles Julius Kern as a Candidate for City Marshal, and recommend him to the other Wards.

We publish the Tickets nominated last evening.

☞ Messrs. West, Johnston and Fishback are all old Democrats, and every Democrat who votes for them, will do a good Democratic deed. There is no use of talking against the thing, because they are to be elected. The Wisconsin will growl in a small way, sort o' currish like, and the Commercial will howl like the man among the tombs, but nobody will be scared or hurt, but themselves and their doomed candidates. That's all. Wait a little longer—three days—"there's a good time coming, boys!"

Gen. Lewis Cass.

This distinguished man has of late done much to relieve his political character from the charge of "servility," to which his pro-Slavery course in Congress has rendered it obnoxious.

Notwithstanding the fierce denunciations of the hotspurs of the South, the conduct of Gen. Cass, upon the reception of Kossuth, of Hungary, was marked by a spirit of fearless independence and magnanimity that commanded the admiration of both friends and foes.

At the Congressional banquet in Washington, he enunciated his devotion to the sacred cause of Freedom in the glowing declaration:—"I am for the largest liberty to the greatest number, over the whole face of the earth." And again—"I am willing to say that no nation under heaven, whether its chief magistrate wears a hat or a crown, has any right to interfere in the affairs of another nation, struggling for human liberty."

In his recent speech in the Senate of the United States, he has most triumphantly vindicated the policy of a declaration by Congress to the same effect. We have read this speech, and we have risen from its perusal with a heart burning with increased love for Freedom, and saddened by the reflection that so chivalrous a champion could not have splintered a single lance in defiance of oppression at home.—Cleve. True Dem.

FLAX COTTON VS. SLAVERY.—We take the following from the Correspondence of the Cleveland True Dem.

"I went to one of the lower rooms in the Capitol, to examine the Flax Cotton, now exhibiting there. I found a gentlemen of pleasing manners, having a large table spread with flax, in its raw state, but partially divested of its ligneous substance; also in its pure fibrous state, in various modified forms, down to what resembled pure cotton, from which I could not distinguish it. He showed us thread made of it, and also made a mixture of cotton and flax, and of cotton and wool. Stockings manufactured from it, and a variety of cloths made of flax cotton solely; also of flax and of common cotton, and of the same article mixed with wool. It receives various colors in high perfection, as you may see from the specimens I herewith transmit.

The machinery used for manufacturing it, is the same as that for manufacturing ordinary cotton. That is, it is carded, spun and woven in the same manner that cotton is. But the making cotton from flax is a different process. On this point, he assures us that he could give seventy-five dollars per ton for flax, which he now can have in abundance at twenty-five, and then sell the cotton at six cents per pound. He says there is a large establishment now in operation in England for the manufacture of this cotton, and that another is very soon to be erected in Connecticut.

If these facts be correctly stated, the downfall of Slavery is near at hand. Nothing but the cotton of the South could have sustained that institution, up to this time. It surely looks as though Providence was intending to take the cause of redeeming this nation from the dark stain of Slavery into its own hands."

SATURDAY.....FEBRUARY 27.

[Reported for the Daily Democrat.]

Trial of Wm. B. Radcliff, for the Murder of David Ross.

CIRCUIT COURT—Before Judge Hubbell.

A. R. R. Butler, District Attorney, and E. G. Ryan, Esqs., counsel for the prosecution; J. E. Arnold and A. D. Smith, Esqs., counsel for the defence.

Friday Afternoon, Feb. 27.

Mr. Page recalled by defence.—Have taken an active part in ferreting out evidence in this matter, as an officer; more so, perhaps, than any other officer. (Counsel here explained that no imputation against witness was intended.)

Asked by prosecution, if he examined any other person but prisoner. Ans. No.

Asked by defence, if he examined Thompson's boots? Ans. Did not; did not notice whether there was any mud on them. In answer to the question, "When did your last see him? Prisoner answered, "When he left the house"; recollection not distinct, however.

Mr. Reeves, whose cross-examination was put over on account of the burial of his child, was here called, and desired to make a correction. Witness says that Ross came to board with him about the 9th of April; his acquaintance commenced by trading with him at his store; don't know at what time the partnership was dissolved; does not know that Ross entered into any other business; cannot say whether Ross was accustomed to drink, or not; have seen him drink a few times; on his coming home, have sometimes thought he was a little in liquor, but not so much as not to be rational; he was away evenings, and sometimes all night; towards the latter part of his boarding with witness, he was away oftener all night, than at first; during the last week, he was away three nights in succession, and days likewise; during these nights and days, he was not at my house at all; cannot say whether he had withdrawn money from Mrs. Reeves, or not, previous to this time; don't know whether witness was at home when Ross came back, after these days and nights, or not; he appeared as usual; his temper was mild and equable always while at witness' house; do not know whether he visited groceries or not, except that on the Saturday evening previous, he went into a grocery with witness and took a glass of beer; the grocery was opposite Wigler's; Ross took dinner at my house on Sunday; he wore the clothes he usually wore every day; he did not tell me where he was going when he left. Direct examination confirmed as to leaving and as to his intention to return after going to P. O; Ratcliff came to witness' house between 6 and 10 minutes past; Ross did not return; it was about 10 o'clock when Hoffman came to witness' house; it was rather cloudy; believes the moon was down; the three days and nights when Ross was absent were the fore part of the week and Sunday previous was one of them; he was also absent on Friday night following; he gave as a reason for his absence that he had been in the country to buy a farm, this was after the three days absence; he gave no definite account of his absence on Friday night; he first spoke of going to Cincinnati before coming to board with me; and as witness supposed to reside; he first spoke of going on Monday the 5th of May on Saturday as witness thinks; and asked him to give him a helping hand to get ready; he mentioned the place in the country where he went; witness does not recollect the name of it; it was about forty miles distant; said it was where his uncle was; did not know that he had an uncle and have never seen him; spoke once or twice of relations in Boston; Ross was a Scotchman but do not know how long he had been in this country; from what he said he had been in the state since August previous to their acquaintance; hat was taken to witness house in the evening; the hole in the hat appeared to be broken; did not see the hat applied to his head after Ross was laid out; did not notice whether the hole corresponded to any bruise on the head; do not recollect seeing the hat applied at any time; don't recollect putting finger through the hole; the hole was ⅝ of an inch in size; the distance between the nearest part of the body and the mash was about three feet; the marsh was more wet in the centre than at the side; the marsh was wet at that time; a person could not get thro' marsh where the tracks were without miring into the muck; the tracks I saw were from an inch to an inch and a half deep; witness did not follow the tracks at all in the morning; Mr. Wheelock was with him; don't recollect having seen prisoner before the Sunday when he came to his house: prisoners first inquiry was—does Mr. Ross board here—witness answered he did; prisoner then asked if he was at home; witness said he was not; prisoner then said he was a curious fellow, or something to that effect—that he was a smart chap, and that it would take one all day to find him. Witness told him he had been at home all day, until 2 o'clock, and when he went out said he would be back between 5 and 6. Wit. turned to his clock and said, You had better sit down as it is a little past the time. Ratcliffe came in and sat down. He said that Ross was a fine fellow—an innocent fellow—and he wanted to find him; he had a letter to send to Cincinnati by him. He said, He is going to Cincinnati in the morning—as if he had heard that he was going. Did not say to whom he wanted to send a letter; did not speak of having a brother in Cincinnati; the boxes stood in the same room where prisoner was; one chest might have been in Ross's room; there was a label on one of them; put there when witness owned it; don't know that there was any particular occasion for his speaking of Ross's joking with the girl, except in connection with what he said at first; prisoner said he wanted to see him, and must see him; witness's wife remarked that she thought Ross was coming, and upon this, he stepped to the window and looked out; there was nothing in prisoner's dress that attracted attention; it was near two o'clock when Ross counted money; witness was about six feet from him; witness did not look at the pieces with sufficient care to tell the number; did not count the money Ross entrusted to his wife; the distance from witness's house to Elizabeth street is about half the length of a lot; the distance from front of house to Grove street, is eight feet; don't know a house or grocery kept by Mr. Evans; never heard Ross speak of such a grocery; the belt seemed uniformly divided off into small compartments; witness did not examine it carefully; there was a buckle on one end of it; Ross, when he put money in belt, distributed it among the several apartments; he had more than one watch; saw the gold chain before.

Direct Examination resumed.—There was no water lying on the surface of the marsh; it was merely wet land; (a dirk knife was here exhibited to witness, and witness recognized it as belonging to Ross; another one was also shown him, but witness could not say that he had ever seen it;) there was a gold watch found in belt; the other was a silver one; does not know what became it, or that it was seen after Ross's death; the streets in our part of the town were dry at that time; Sunday night was a cloudy one; there was a small moon for a little while; when Ross came home on Saturday, to stay, it was between 6 and 7 o'clock; he was not off of the premises again until next day at 2 o'clock; he was out of house a few minutes on Sunday morning; Ross used to speak of his wife often; more so than of other relatives; she was dead, but witness cannot say how long she had been dead; witness cannot say that Ross was in the habit, at Saloons, of telling all about himself and affairs.

Mary Reeves, here introduced by prosecution, deposed as follows:—Is the wife of Thaddeus Reeves; know David Ross; recollect his death in May last; he died on Sunday the 4th day of May in the evening; Mr. Ross boarded at her house; commenced boarding with her on the 9th of April last, and boarded with her until his death; he had money when he came to board with her; he had $180 that witness knows of; he handed it to witness and requested her to keep it until he came back; the money was $20 gold pieces; it continued in her possession until the Tuesday or Wednesday before murder witness then delivered it to Ross; don't know where he put it; don't know where he was in the habit of keeping his money; he had a money belt which witness first saw on the day of his death; saw it at my house on the table; he laid it out and counted his money; don't know how much money he had on the table; he put the money back into the belt when it was counted and went into his bed-room; he remained there a few moments and came out: don't recollect his saying anything when he came out about belt or money; don't know that he had the belt on Saturday, except from his own statement; on Saturday he came out of his room and put his hand on his sides and said he had been loading up; witness said, "to shoot me;" he replied, "nothing of that kind, I hope;" knew the prisoner by sight; first saw him about a fortnight previous to the murder; he called at witness's house; it was in the day time; he inquired if Mr. Ross was in; witness replied he was not; don't recollect what; he next said he remained a few moments and went away; did not say what he wanted of Ross; next saw him on Sunday, the day of Ross' murder; it was in the evening between 6 and 7. He inquired for Ross; witness told him he had gone to the Post Office and it was time for him to be back; he said he had been looking for him all day, and it would take a smart chap to find him; he wanted to know what time he went out and when she expected him back; witness replied he went out about 2 o'clock and she expected him back between 5 and 6 o'clock; he was going to the Post Office and was then coming directly home; witness then asked him to come in; he said he would do so, and wait a few moments, as Ross might be back; he spoke about Ross' goods, inquired about his boxes and wanted to know if those there were his and whether he had any others, and if witness know how he was going to send them; he said he was foolish to take them with him, as he know the route better than Ross did: he had better send them by express; he spoke of Ross being intimate with a lady up town; said he had betto bewre as she was a "hard cud." spoke of Mr. Ross being a clever, honest-hearted fellow; said he would molest no one; when he went out, Mr. Reeves asked him what he should tell Ross, as to who called; he said, just tell him my build, and he will know; he gave his name; nothing further was said; he had on a black hat, a black frock coat, a snuff-colored vest, and mixed pants, as near as witness can recollect; didn't notice whether he was neatly dressed, or not; did not notice whether shirt he had on was clean or dirty; was first informed of Ross's death on Sunday evening, between 9 and 10 o'clock, by Adam Hoffman; witness did not go on to the ground where the body was; Saw Ross' hat the next day but one; saw two breaks in the hat; they looked like three-cornered holes; couldn't say as to size of them; one was on the side of the hat, just under the top, and the other under the band, above the rim; did not notice the condition of the clothing except the flannel and linen, after they were washed; prisoner seemed very anxious to see Ross the Sunday evening he called; don't recollect any thing else peculiar; he manifested his anxiety to see Ross, by getting up and watching at the window; don't recollect of thinking his conduct peculiar, afterwards; he got up and went to the window; once he sat near the window, and kept turning round and looking out of the window.

Cross Examined.—Witness gave Ross $160 when she returned the money, as before testified; she gave him $20 on the 11th of April; he came to board with witness on the 9th, and gave her the money on the 10th; on the 11th he called for $20, to pay for his wife's grave stones; he stated that at the time; witness was not near him when he counted his money on Sunday; was around at work; do not know how much there was; saw him put it into the belt, and go into the room; when he came out, he went into the wash room, to wash him; he was dressed in black; he ordinarily wore black; his dress on Sunday, was different from his week day dress; he dressed up; didn't see outside clothes of Ross until after they were washed; Ross was absent a good many days and a good many nights; when he was boarding with witness, he was absent more or less every week; at one time he was absent three nights; don't know where he was at these times; never heard him say where he was; couldn't say, only from hearsay, that Ross drank; have seen him when I thought he had been drinking; more or less every day; did not know what prisoner meant when he spoke of the intimacy of Ross with the woman up town; witness knew that Ross was going to leave a few days before; knew when he was going to leave on Sunday; on Sunday he packed up his things; on the day witness gave Ross his money (Tuesday or Wednesday before) he spoke of buying a farm in the country; witness thinks the farm was 7 miles from Watertown; he stated when he took the money that he had been to see his uncle and his place at Watertown; he did not say who this uncle was or anything about him; don't know of Ross' saying at any time that he was going to see his uncle; never heard him say on leaving anything about going to see uncle or his farm; don't know that any thing was his business when he was boarding at her house; don't think that she should have supposed conduct of prisoner as any thing unusual if the murder had not occurred; could not say whether shirt collar was standing up or turned over; could not say whether pantaloons had straps or not; could'nt say how they were made before; the clothes were grayer than those he has on now; think the vest was not satin; could not say what the material was; it was open but did not notice shirt bosom; could not say whether vest was plain or figured; did'nt notice whether collar of coat was cloth or velvet; his cravat was a light checquered one; no remark was made as to any singularity in prisoner's dress or appearance after he left; witness and husband went to bed about 1-2 past nine; he came in a little before; he went out early in the evening; witness knew the time from looking at the clock when they went to bed; fastened all the doors when went to bed; usually did so; when we went to bed we expected Ross; when we were called up by Hoffman did not look at the clock; had not been to sleep; had been to bed not half an hour.

Direct Examination resumed.—On Saturday night, before the murder, Ross slept at home; never saw him intoxicated; judged that he had been drinking from the smell of his breath when he came in; did not sleep at home on Friday night, previous to murder.

Mr. Reeves recalled.—On Sunday night of the Monday previous to the murder he went out; it was about 7 o'clock; went to Mr. Ackman's on Hanover street, thence to Mr. Gillet's, and thence home; when he got home it was a little before 9 o'clock; should think 15 minutes before; went to bed about half past nine; was asleep at the time Hoffman knocked; Gillet's house is on Elizabeth street, east on the same side of street with witness' house; Hanover street is north of Elizabeth street, and east of Greenbush st.; witness could not say when the grave stones were put up; (the knives and piece of belt were here shown Mrs. Reeves.) she had seen the dirk knife before, and could not say that the piece of belt was a part of belt of Ross; did sewing for Ross; did not sew the red flannel on it; Mr. Reeves also deposed that he did not know when flannel was sewed on; Ross was not in the habit of telling witness where he had been; he once pointed to a brick house in Kilbourntown where he had been the night before; think this is the only time; didn't say whose house it was; he said he was there dancing; witness thinks this was on Sunday, when he and Ross were walking near the light house; the house was a little north from a straight line west from where they stood; The house was a 2 story house.

Alexander Douglas, next witness for prosecution, testified as follows:—Knows prisoner; knew David Ross, but not long; heard of death of Ross; saw prisoner and Ross together once before that; it was at a small house at the foot of Main street; kept by Mr. Webb; this was from 20 to 24 days before Ross' death; didn't then appear to be acquainted; they became acquainted a little; Ross asked witness who Radcliffe was, but Radcliffe did not ask who Ross was; they were not formally introduced; they spoke together; they both had friends in Cincinnati.

Cross-Examined.—Don't recollect the day of the week; it was in afternoon, at 3 or 4 o'clock; it was week day; there were two gentlemen there from Cincinnati, and Mr. Ross and Mr. Radcliffe were speaking together about their friends; don't recollect who came in with Radcliffe; Ross came there to see these men; Radcliffe was not there at the time; the house was a boarding house; Ross had a letter to send by these men; they were going away next morning; witness resides in 5th Ward; knew Mr. Ross about six weeks; he boarded before, and a short time after his wife died, at Mr. Wejler's, and then went to Reeves; can't say where boarded ot the time witness went to Webb's with him; was with Ross sometimes; he often came to witness's house; is from same county; have seen him drink beer, but not often; drank with him sometimes, but not often; witness makes shingles.

Direct Examination Resumed.—Thinks Ross' wife died about two months before Ross did; [one of the jurymen here, put some questions which, however, elicited nothing pertinent to the case.]

Direct Examination Resumed.—Witness does not remember who treated first at the house; did not drink several times.

Doctor Hatchard—next introduced for prosecution, deposed as follows:—Has been a practising physician since 1840; saw the body of David Ross after his death; it was at the house of Mr. Reeves, the day after the murder; casually noticed the wounds in the body; the wounds most particularly noticed were the mortal wounds; there was a little above and behind the eye a contused wound on the scalp, on applying fingers found a large hole in the skull extending into the brain; the edges of the upper part of wound were cut about an inch long; appeared to be part of the hole, as if produced by the same blow; (witness here made a diagram of head and showed the position and shape and described the nature of the wound) on the back part of head; there was another wound and hole in which fingers could be inserted to the brain; the wound was a little to the west of the occipital protuberance; there were smaller bruises and wounds, but the ones described were the principal mortal ones; the wonder is that he lived so long, as he is said to have done; either one was sufficient to produce death; there were no other wounds reaching the brain; noticed no other adequate cause of death than the wounds described; the injuries witness thought at time must have been produced by a large hammer, (an iron instrument was here shown witness and he said the wounds must have been produced by an instrument as formidable as that one;) they might as well have been produced by that instrument as by any other witness can imagine; witness saw the hat said to have been worn by Ross; noticed a break in hat a little to the left of the tuft of empo on back of hat; a sort of stellated or triangular break: as if broken in two or three directions; witness did not apply hat to head of deceased; but said to Dr. Dowe who held the hat in his hand, that hole must correspond with the hole in the head; the hole in the hat was a little above the rim; and the hole in the head was a little to the left of the occupital protuberance; the hole in the head could have been produced through the hat and left a much smaller hole in the hat than would be made in the head.

Cross Examination.—It was about mid-day when witness got there; passed fingers directly forward into the hole; thrust fingers as far as length of fingers would allow into the hole in the back of head; some portion of brain might have exuded; there had been another Physician there; witness has never seen cancelling hammer; sorry to say has nothing to do with banking; the wound would not remind witness of any particular instrument except one that would drive into the skull; witness should think the wound might as well as have been made by a rivetting hammer; could'nt say whether such an instrument as the one produced would cut through the hat or not; if it did the incision would be semicircular; if the hat was stiff it would break in different directions; does not think one could live an hour after receiving such wounds; should think they would produce death within a minute; the loss of blood would be very great, if he died from the hemorrage he wound probably collapse in three minutes; if the lateral sinus was ruptured the flow of blood would be much more free: the bruise over the left eye might have been produced in falling.

Direct Examination Resumed.—Should think Ross was 5 feet 10 in height; the bruises it is not probable were produced by the same instrument as produced the mortal wounds; a cancelling hammer with several blades, projecting from surface at right angles, would not account for any of the wounds; a stone hammer would; a parley arising as to what sort of impression a cancelling hammer would make; Mr. Ryan thought some of the Jury were probably acquainted with it.

Adjourned till ½ past 8.

Saturday Morning, Feb. 28.

John White, recalled by prosecution testified: In examining the spot on the boot, witness also noticed a hair on it; it was fastened to the boot about in the centre of the spot. The hair was over an inch long. The color of it was a darkish brown. The last time I saw the hair on the boot was in the Grand Jury room; witness thinks it was rubbed off then. When witness was at the house making the arrest there was no other person searched but prisoner.

Cross Examination.—Thinks the hair was on the spot when it was cut out; thinks spot was cut out by Dr. Garner. The color of hair resembled Mr. Butlers'; witness thinks it is not very easy to tell the color of a single hair; he looked at it in the light and in the shade—couldn't swear that it was the hair of a man; cannot swear that it was'nt the hair of an ox, cow, or dog; it might have been the hair of any animal as well as of a man; do not know what has become of it; noticed the hair of Ross; he had a remarkable head of hair; what witness would call a good head of hair; the color was about as dark as Criers. The blood was not entirely cleaned from the hair; they were cleaning it at the time; discovered at prisoners' house no signs of a recent washing. In all the search witness found nothing, he thought connected with this transaction except what he has already testified to.

William Quick, called by prosecution, deposed as follows: Resides on Main Street, 3d Ward; is a blacksmith; worked in May last, at Nelson Soggs' in this city; knows prisoner; knew him in May last; saw him at Soggs' shop some time in the latter part of last April; recollect hearing of the death of Ross. prisoner was at shop about 10 days before; it was 10 or 11 o'clock in forenoon; inquired for Soggs'; witness told him Soggs had gone to Chicago that morning on the boat; he said he wanted to see him; turned round and inquired if there was any ½ inch round iron; witness said he had none in shop but had some 9-16ths of an inch; he picked up a piece off of the floor; put it into one of the fires, heated it, and turned an eye on one end of it, and wanted witness to put a head on the other end; witness did so. The iron was 10 or 20 inches long. There was no other fire vacant but mine at the time; prisoner is a blacksmith. The iron was here produced and recognized by witness; witness sees no difference between this and the one made by him, except that the bar of this is ½ inch and there was no ½ inch iron in the shop; witness went to dinner, leaving it on the floor; returned at 1 o'clock; prisoner was out doors when witness left; was not there on his return; the instrument was not there; don't know where prisoner was when he went to dinner.

Witness asked the prisoner what he wanted the instrument for; he said he wanted to hang it on the end of a spring pole of a punching machine; asked him no more about it; the piece of iron put on the end of the instrument forming the head witness picked up from the floor. The day of the week was Friday, the Friday but one previous to the death of Ross.

Cross Examination.—Have known defendant over 8 years have worked in the same shop with him, of Soggs & Cummings; have never had any difficulty with him; first inquired for Soggs; remember the time right well; kept no dates, or memorandum. The boat was not at the wharf at the time prisoner came to shop; Soggs clerk, at that time, was Lathrop; Lathrop is now in Sheboygan; Lathrop was not then starting for wharf; there were 4 fires in the shop at the time, and all occupied; one by witness, another where rivets were made by a small man whose name witness does'nt remember; another by a man named Rinsink; William McKibbe had the other one. Prisoner asked for iron; witness was doing a job for steamboat, was making a strap for hog-chain, had just finished it; prisoner told witness to make the head and inch and a half in diameter; needn't be particular; told him to make it round and weld it on the head; didn't tell him how he should weld it on; witness has never seen the spring pole of a punching machine; didn't ask prisoner what it was; can't swear to the exact time when prisoner came to the shop; saw him walk in the shop door; had been in about 10 minutes before he commenced conversation with witness; don't remember how long he had been in the shop before the iron was finished; don't recollect when Radcliff went out; don't know where he went. Thomas Holmes was in the shop when witness went to dinner; he was there when witness returned.

Thomas Holmes, here called by prosecution, deposed: Resides in Jefferson County; lived in the 4th ward in May last; was a boiler maker in Mr. Soggs shop; knew prisoner; had known him 8 or 9 months prior to his arrest; know William Quick; recollect hearing of the death of Ross; saw prisoner several times in Soggs' shop before Ross' death; did not see him making an iron, but recollect his coming to the shop a few days before the death of Ross; saw such an iron as the one in Court at the shop 10 or 12 days before arrest; when witness first saw it, Quick was dropping it on the floor. Prisoner had been in the shop a short time before; there were 6 or 8 persons working in the shop; didn't go to dinner from the shop that day; did not leave the shop; was the only person in the shop during dinner hour, the other hands left about the same time. Prisoner was in the shop between 12 and 1, while the other hands were absent; witness was eating dinner; prisoner said "How do you do;" witness was in one corner of the shop; he said nothing more he inquired for nobody; he remained from 5 to 10 minutes; can't say that he did any thing; can't say that witness saw him leave; he came in and walked down the shop past the addition where the rivet making fire was; when he passed the addition witness couldn't see him, and did not watch him; couldn't see anvil of rivet fire; saw nothing in his hand while in the shop; took nothing away from shop, as prisoner knows; could not see back door from where witness was sitting; could not have gone out of front door without witness seeing him; have never seen the iron since; continued working in shop up to the latter end of October; no other stranger came into the shop until Quick returned; witness did not go near Quicks' anvil while he was gone to dinner.

Cross Examination. Witness could not say whether prisoner went out of front or back door; it is common for brother chips to go into each others' shops; prisoner might have gone out of front door without being noticed by witness. Witness took no notice of what was done with instrument; back door was generally closed, and a piece of iron placed against it; doesn't know that it was shut at that time; some other person might have come in if door was open, and gone to Quick's anvil without being seen by witness. The floor is a ground floor. The business of shop is ship smithing and boiler making. Prisoner had on a hat and black frock coat, not much worn; couldn't say what kind of pantaloons, vest or shirt.—Witness couldn't swear positively as to color of coat only it was dark colored; prisoner was near front door when witness first saw him at noon.

Mr. Quick, recalled. Prisoner never inquired of witness for the instrument after he threw it on floor, and went to dinner; witness's fire and anvil was about midway between front and back door; first man seen by witness, when he came back to shop, was Holmes; does not remember that any one else was in shop; can't say whether back door was fastened or not; it was usually fastened by hook and staples on the inside, and it could be opened from outside by putting hand thro' the window.

Dr. Orton, here called by prosecution, deposed as follows:—Is a practicing Physician and Surgeon; have been one since 1842; didn't know David Ross; doesn't know prisoner; recollects the death of Ross; was present at post mortem examination of his body; saw Squire Parsons about half past 10 o'clock on that day, and he said it might be necessary to have a dissection of the head. The jury adjourned from the house to Parson's office. The deceased lay upon his left side; the first wound that attracted witness's attention was an incised gash over the right eye, about an inch in length. There was another one about at right angles with this, extending to it but not crossing it, also incised, having the appearance of being made with a sharp instrument, a cutting edge. The skull underneath was not fractured. There was a little, above and back of the left eye, quite a large hole; a triangular hole, incised in front; the edges in front quite smooth and a gash extending above the incised part of wound. Witness put his finger in and found the fracture of skull larger than the incised wound; the hole was large enough for two fingers; as witness put his finger in he turned it back a little over the left ear and found the bone somewhat broken but not displaced. Witness found another large hole a little to the left of the occipital protuberance; put three fingers into it; it was two inches in length, and the skull was broken in. The occipital bone is the back bone of the head; noticed no other gashes or injuries. The brain had been disturbed; thinks a portion had escaped; either one of the last wounds described would produce death; saw no other cause of death; examined no part of body but head.

The iron instrument was here produced and District Attorney asked witness if the wounds he had described might not have been produced by an instument similar to that, and Mr. Smith submitted to the Court that it was for the Jury to determine by what instrument the wound was inflicted after having it described. The Court thought it was proper for a witness to testify as to the cause of wound or the nature of the instrument by which it was produced—exception taken.

Witness thinks the wounds, with the exception of that over the eye, might as well have been produced by such an instrument as any other; cannot see how the one over the eye could have been produced by such an instrument; the wound over the eye and the other wounds must have been produced by different instruments.

Cross Examination.—The edges of the skull in the temple wound were somewhat ragged; can't say that the back part of wound formed an acute angle; should think it somewhat circular; there was a portion of bone between the two fractures unbroken. Such an instrument as the one shown witness would or would not drive in skin on the upper edge, according to the force used in applying it; the temporal muscle is about 1-8 inch in thickness; instrument with such an edge would not necessarily tear the muscle; thinks a hammer would not produce such a wound as it would be flat. If the edge of a hammer was applied it would produce an incised wound with a smash back. The quality of the skull in front of temple is quite thin and brittle; it would be likely to break and leave a jagged edge. A fracture in the skull near temporal bone would not necessarily receive the shape of instrument by which it was produced; the bone back of head near occipital bone is thicker, and thinks a fracture of it would not receive the shape of instrument. It would depend, however, upon velocity; if a hat intervened the fracture, whatever might be the velocity, would not receive shape of instrument if hat did not. Witness does not think he felt edge of bone on both sides of wound on inserting fingers; the wound was two inches in length; can't say how wide it was exactly; impression is that a portion of the brain was entirely broken off and forced in; the scalp partly adhered and was partly forced in. Don't think there was any regularity of form in wound in back part of head; the scalp was attached in front and detached in rear of wound; the wound witness thinks not as long as wide. A wound made with such an instrument if there was but one blow, and if the instrument entered the head, would be as broad as long; the bone of the wound was forced clear into the head and formed a hole. The temporal wound was large enough for his fingers; witness did not see hat; thinks the wound on the temple was made while the man was standing up, and by some one from behind; the wound on back of head might have been made while the person was standing. Witness thinks a wound such as the one on the temple might have been made with so large an instrument; if the instrument went in it would make a larger hole than the one described.

Charles Lutze, introduced by prosecution, deposed as follows: Lives on East Water st.; is a glove maker; place of busines is 4th door south of Cordes' corner, in 3d Ward; does not know the prisoner; never saw him before. The portion of belt was shown witness, and he said the leather part was his work, but not the flannel; did not know Ross until he bought some articles of him; there was another person with him, who bargained for the articles and Ross paid for them; Ross bought nothing but this belt and paid four shillings for it; the length of belt when he bought it, was about three times the length of the piece; the ends were fastened by a buckle and strap; there were two compartments in the middle larger than the others; those in the middle were each about half the length of a bank bill. The man who came with Ross had a large head of hair and a full face; hair lighter than prisoner's; was in his shirt sleeves, and had on a red under shirt, with sleeves of white shirt turned over. This was one or two days before the report of Ross's death. The hair of the man was in much confusion and he was not sober; the hair had no definite color; it was not red or auburn; he was a broad-shouldered man, and his face was bloated; about 30 years old; about as tall as himself. Witness heard of the murder in the forenoon, and was told that it was committed on that day; a German woman told him; not longer than two days before that Ross bought the belt.

Cross Examination. Did not know Ross' name when he bought the belt; witness first saw piece of belt when some one came and asked him if it came from his shop; it was some days after the murder; don't recollect the day of the week he sold the belt; it was in the afternoon. The man that was murdered asked for the belt; knows who was murdered from the description of him the woman gave; it occurred to witness at that moment that it was the man who bought the belt. If she had described the other man as the one murdered it would have occurred to him who it was. He observed the man most who wanted the belt; the other man looked out of the window often. Ross stood before him. Ross was the tallest man, and the other man the strongest. Ross was well dressed; had on a black coat with crape on his hat, Ross' hair was dark brown, not very long or very short; had two belts, kept the other one until some time afterwards; thinks has never since that day seen that man; took no pains to remember; prisoner is not the man; could not judge whether Ross was taller than prisoner or not; could not exactly say that Ross was taller than the man with him in the shop; cannot say whether the man with Ross had anything on his head or not; did not notice him particularly. They were in the shop 6 or 8 minutes.

Direct Examination. Store was about 16 feet Square.

Court adjourned.

Balky Horses.—The practice of an English friend, who has cured numbers of them, is to hitch a steady horse or team behind them and pull them backwards. It should be done on smooth fair ground. The refractory beast will not relish such treatment, and will soon be glad to go forward at the word of command. The most stubborn will yield and be perfectly true and tractable after three or four tutorings. The aforementioned friend tells me he never failed in a single instance to conquer, and that too without the stroke of a whip, or otherwise maltreating the animal.

GREAT WORK ON CIVILIZATION.

This valuable work, has just arrived at

C. OTT'S BOOKSTORE.

It is the work of the age. From a large number of liberal and highly complimentary notices of this work, from the religious and secular press, we only select the following:
"This admirable work is at length before us, and we hasten to inform our readers of the valuable addition, which has thus been made to the Literature of our country. The work is by far the most important of its kind, ever published in this country. It is in fact a complete library in itself, condensed and so arranged as to bring the whole question within the grasp of the humblest reader. It appears most appropriately at the present time, and will, no doubt, prove an instrument of great efficacy in the work of diffusing sound doctrines on the matters of which it treats."—Truth Teller. april22

H. N. DAVIS'S COLUMN,

WAUKESHA.

For the Removal and Permanent Cure of all

NERVOUS DISEASES,

And of those Complaints which are caused by an impaired, weakened or unhealthy condition of the

NERVOUS SYSTEM.

This beautiful and convenient application of the mysterious powers of GALVANISM and MAGNETISM, has been pronounced by distinguished physicians, both in Europe and the United States, to be the most valuable medicinal discovery of the Age.

nd

is used with the most perfect and certain success in all cases of

GENERAL DEBILITY,

Strengthening the weakened body, giving tone to the various organs, and invigorating the entire system. Also in FITS, CRAMP, PARALYSIS and PALSY, DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, ACUTE and CHRONIC, GOUT, EPILEPSY, LUMBAGO, DEAFNESS, NERVOUS TREMORS, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, APOPLEXY, NEURALGIA, PAINS in the SIDE and CHEST, LIVER COMPLAINT, SPINAL COMPLAINT, and CURVATURE of the SPINE, HIP COMPLAINT, DISEASES of the KIDNEYS, DEFICIENCY of NERVOUS and PHYSICAL ENERGY, and all NERVOUS DISEASES, which complaints arise from one simple cause—namely,

A Derangement of the Nervous System.

☞In NERVOUS COMPLAINTS, Drugs and Medicines increase the disease, for they weaken the vital energies of the already prostrated system; while, under the strengthening, life-giving, vitalizing influence of Galvanism, as applied by this beautiful and wonderful discovery, the exhausted patient and weakened sufferer is restored to former health, strength, elasticity and vigor

The great peculiarity and excellence of

consists in the fact that they arrest and cure disease by outward application, in place of the usual mode of drugging, and physicking the patient, till exhausted Nature sinks hopelessly under the infliction.

They strengthen the whole system, equalize the circulation of the blood, promote the secretions, and never do the slightest injury under any circumstances. Since their introduction in the United States, only three years since more than

75,000 Persons

including all ages, classes and conditions, among which were a large number of ladies, who are peculiarly subject to Nervous Complaints, have been

when all hope of relief had been given up, and every thing else been tried in vain!

To illustrate the use of the GALVANIC BELT, suppose the case of a person afflicted with that bane of civilization, DYSPEPSIA, or any other Chronic or Nervous Disorder. In ordinary cases, stimulants are taken which, by their action on the nerves and muscles of the stomach, afford temporary relief, but which leave the patient in a lower state, and with injured faculties, after the action thus excited has ceased. Now compare this with the effect resulting from the application of the GALVANIC BELT. Take a Dyspeptic sufferer, even in the worst symptoms of an attack, and simply tie the Belt around the Body, using the Magnetic Fluid as directed. In a short period the insensible perspiration will act on the positive element of the Belt, thereby causing a Galvanic circulation which will pass on to the negative, and thence back again to the positive, thus keeping up a continuous Galvanic circulation throughout the system. Thus the most severe cases of DYSPEPSIA are PERMANENTLY CURED. A FEW DAYS IS AMPLY SUFFICIENT TO ERADICATE THE DISEASE OF YEARS.

Of the most Undoubted Character,

From all parts of the country could be given, sufficient to fill every column in this paper!

which conclusively proves that

"Truth is stranger than Fiction."

CURE OF

RHEUMATISM, BRONCHITIS, AND DYSPEPSIA.

REV. DR. LANDIS, A CLERGYMAN

of New Jersey, of distinguished attainments and exalted reputation:—

SIDNEY, New Jersey, July 12, 1848.

DR. A. H. CHRISTIE—Dear Sir: You wish to know of me what has been the result in my own case, of the application of THE GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE. My reply is as follows:

For about twenty years I had been suffering from Dyspepsia. Every year the symptoms became worse, nor could I obtain permanent relief from any course of medical treatment whatever. About fourteen years since, in consequence of frequent exposure to the weather, in the discharge of my pastoral duties, I became subject to a severe Chronic Rheumatism, which for year after year, caused me indescribable anguish. Farther: in the winter of '45 and '46, in consequence of preaching a great deal in my own and various other churches in this region, I was attacked by the Bronchitis, which soon became so severe as to require an immediate suspension of my pastoral labors. My nervous system was now thoroughly prostrated, and as my Bronchitis became worse, so also did my Dyspepsia and Rheumatic affection—thus evincing that those disorders were connected with each other through the medium of the Nervous System. In the whole pharmacopœia there seemed to be no remedial agent which could reach and recuperate my Nervous System; every thing that I had tried for this purpose had completely failed. At last I was led by my friends to examine your inventions, and (though with no very sanguine hopes of their efficiency,) I determined to try the effect of the application of the GALVANIC BELT AND NECKLACE, with the MAGNETIC FLUID. This was in June, 1848. TO MY GREAT ASTONISHMENT, IN TWO DAYS MY DYSPEPSIA HAD GONE; IN EIGHT DAYS I WAS ENABLED TO RESUME MY PASTORAL LABORS, NOR HAVE I SINCE OMITTED A SINGLE SERVICE ON ACCOUNT OF THE BRONCHITIS; AND MY RHEUMATIC AFFECTION HAS ENTIRELY CEASED TO TROUBLE ME. Such is the wonderful and happy results of the experiment.

I have recommended the BELT and FLUID to many who have been likewise suffering from Neuralgic affections. They have tried them, WITH HAPPY RESULTS, I BELIEVE IN EVERY CASE.

I am, dear sir, very respectfully yours,
ROBERT W. LANDIS.

DR. CHRISTIE'S
GALVANIC NECKLACE

Is used for all complaints affecting the Throat or Head, such as Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dizziness of the Head, Neuralgia in the Face, Buzzing or Roaring in the Ears, Deafness, which is generally Nervous, and that distressing complaint, called Tic Doloreux.

GALVANIC BRACELETS

Are found of vast service in cases of Convulsions or Fits, Spasmodic Complaints, and general Nervous Affections of the Head and upper extremities. Also in Palsy and Paralysis, and all diseases caused by a deficiency of power or Nervous Energy in the limbs or other organs of the body.

☞Many hundred Certificates from all parts of the country of the most extraordinary character can be given, if required.

GRECIAN FANCHERONIAN DROPS.

A sure and safe remedy for, and will positively cure Sick Headache, Chills and Fever, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Sea Sickness, Cholera, and Cholera Infantum, and restore a healthy action to the liver, without a particle of calomel, mercury, quinine or morphine entering into their compound. They do not purport to be a remedy for all manner of diseases that flesh is heir to, but experience warrants us in saying the above they will positively cure. They will also correct all derangement of the stomach, and relieve from those aches and pains throughout the system commonly called rheumatism. It is an excellent remedy for the Gravel, and as a Vermifuge or Worm medicine, there is none better.
